GRADUATION

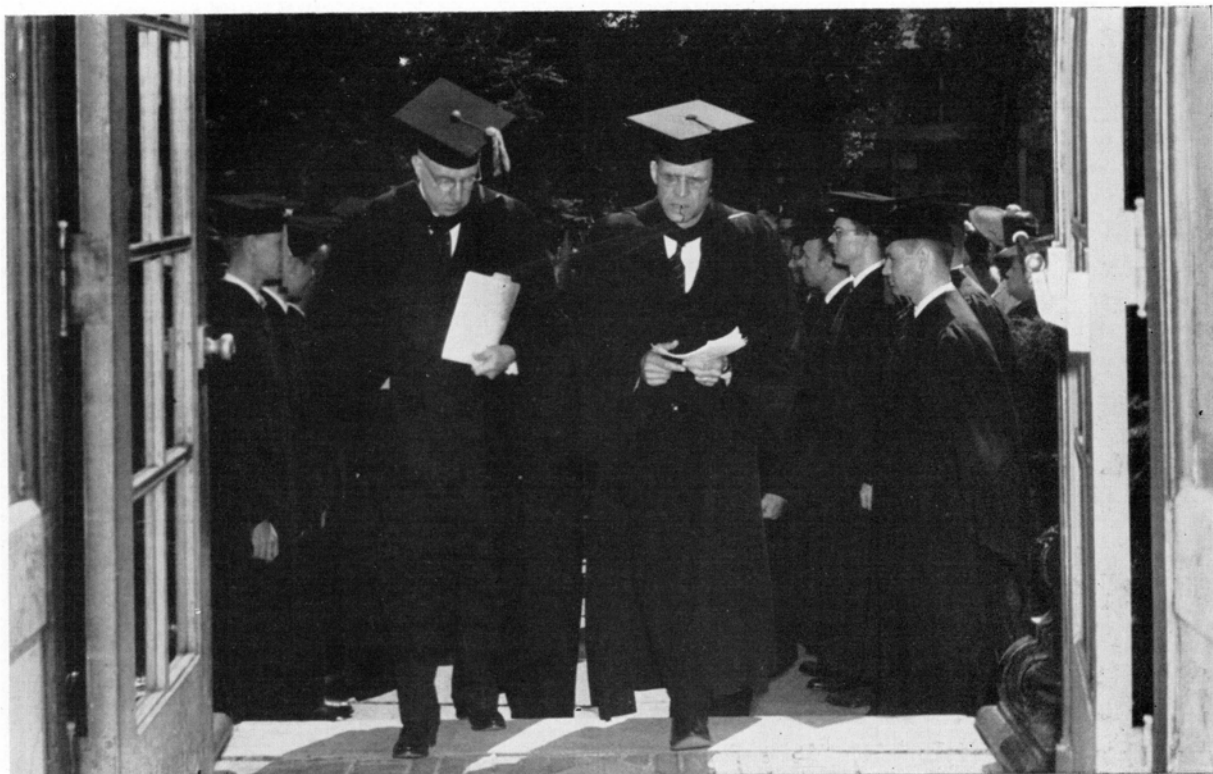

The pageantry, the ceremony, the color, and beauty of the graduation procession was reflected in the triumphal rendition of "Fomp and Circumstance." Lehr auditorium witnessed a crowd that was greater than the gathering that heard Handel's "Messiah" at Christmas time. The stage, beautiful in its garb of fresh spring flowers, was made more colorful as the President and the Deans of the university appeared.

The scene and setting was made more appropriate yet by the chorus-choir's selection of a capella numbers.

Dr. Robert O. McClure delivered the graduation address. It was timely, inspirational, and beneficial not only to the graduates of '48 but to the lowerclassmen as well.

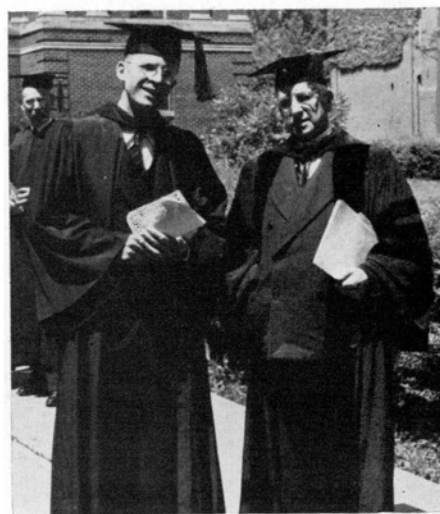

Good Luck, Grads ! ! !

Following the awarding of degrees, Dr. McClure made a few announcements. This short speech was not so much a speech as was it an informal, intimate, and intensely personal talk.

As the last chords of the recessional hymn droned from the organ, the graduates of '48 were met by relatives and friends and in some cases, wives and children.

So long, Graduates of '48—we, classes of '49, '50, and '51, wish you smooth-sailing and Godspeed.

BOARD OF TRUSTEES

For more than seventy-five years Ohio Northern University has met the need for sound education, at comparatively low cost, in the liberal arts and certain of the professions. Its spirit has been one of independence, educational adventure and experiment, and high ethical and religious principle. Its Board of Trustees is committed to the spirit and tradition of its past and to steady improvement of facilities and raising of educational standards, and believes that the goals which the present administration of the university has set, and done so much to reach, can and will be attained, and that Northern will fill a permanently important place in the educational field of Ohio and the Midwest.

PRESIDENT ROBERT O. McCLURE

Message From Prexy

Looking ahead, two things seem perfectly clear—First, there will be a battle of ideologies among the nations of the earth. Second, we, especially you students, cannot escape this struggle. There are those who think they shall find the full life by avoiding hard tasks and responsibilities. Fortunately, since we cannot avoid obstacles, we find the way to happiness and strength by always doing something we believe is worth doing at the cost of comfort and convenience. If Abraham Lincoln's life had been too sheltered either by Government protection of minimum wages or social security or by great wealth from his parents, he might have missed greatness and immortality. I pray God that your faith in yourselves and your fellowmen may never fail you. Go forward into the future with courage, which is by all odds the great ingredient, and success will be found at the end of the road.

The Governor of a state is the Captain of ships of state the crew of which he appoints and over which he is the master of command;
Each policy determines official

ADMINISTRATION

The opportunities and advantages of the university are offered to all sincerely desiring to develop the best in themselves, and aiming at a broad culture and a thorough preparation for useful service.

The university aims to develop a wholesome type of physical, social, intellectual, moral and religious life. It believes that the best preparation for life is best that furnishes opportunity during college days for students to come in contact with men and women of high ideals, broad culture and sympathetic understanding of life. All the activities of the university therefore are devoted to the development of men and women so that they may find real places of happiness and usefulness in the modern world.

COLLEGES

LIBERAL ARTS

DEAN HARVEY EVERT HUBER

The George Franklin and Sarah Getty College of Liberal Arts represents the oldest and the largest college on the campus, although it was reorganized in 1910, after the other three colleges had been well established.

The purpose of the college is to prepare the student thoroughly to enter his life work, or in delving further into scholarship endeavor to give him such a background of the arts and sciences that he may readily understand and comprehend the problems that are before him.

For the purposes of administration, correlation, and integration, the Liberal Arts College is divided into language, literature, and arts; natural sciences; social sciences; and teacher training divisions. The curriculum is so formed to meet as far as possible the needs, interests, and abilities of the individual student.

One of the most outstanding divisions of the Liberal Arts College is that of teacher training. Headed now by Dr. Harry H. Vannorsdall, this department has for more than three quarters of a century prepared teachers for varied and valuable service in the educational field.

In addition to the preparation of men and women for the teaching profession, the college provides the foundation and pre-professional training for careers in the fields of medicine, law, journalism, business, and the ministry.

Serving very capably as Dean of the Liberal Arts College is Harvey Evert Huber, Professor of Biology.

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS CLUB

The International Relations Club of Ohio Northern is a campus organization which gives its entire time to the broadening of the students' ideals in the fields of international problems and knowledge of other nations. The International Relations Club was founded nationally in 1914. It was then called the International Polity Club and was supported then, as it is now, by the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace. The purpose of its founding was twofold. First, it was formed to give college students "scientific, non-partisan, and enlightening" views of world politics. Second, it was formed with the hope that the college students would be a great force in the molding of public opinion in the next generation. In 1920 the International Relations Club took the place of the International Polity Club, and by 1946 there were seven hundred twenty-two individual clubs in the United States and one hundred eleven clubs in the rest of the world. At that time there were twenty thousand members.

I. R. C. made its first appearance on Ohio Northern's campus in 1928. This was brought about by the efforts of Dr. Clara Schieber, professor of history. Previous to this there was a local international club that was about four years old.

The club lapsed during the war, but it was revived this year under the guidance of Miss Lincoln and later Mr. Cook, business professors. The club meets bi-weekly on Wednesday evenings, and most of the meetings are devoted to the various speakers. Some of the speakers were the Reverend Renz of Lima, who spoke on Universal Military Training, and John D. Starn, a law student just back from Korea, who told the club of current conditions there.

By restricting the topics of discussion and the speeches to current subjects, this club has done much to help the university turn out well-rounded students.

Louis Nichols, W. Paul Brown, Herbert Burdsall, Thomas Alston, J. A. Potter (Dean), Rev. Marion E. Tinsler, Edwin Griswold, Denzel Lovely, Virgil Hair, Douglas Scott.

MINISTERIAL ASSOCIATION

Representing one of the older campus organizations, the Ministerial Association meets each Friday noon to discuss problems and topics of interest to students preparing for the ministry. Its purpose is to aid in developing a spiritual and practical outlook on the Christian ministry through contacts with men already in active service in the church.

Of the ten student members of the association, eight are already serving as pastors or as assistant pastors in nearby churches. Thus their weekly meetings often include a discussion of specific problems and personal experiences. The meetings of the Ministerial Association are frequently supplemented by guest speakers from graduate schools of theology. Usually the principal topic at these affairs is the type of college work that the pre-theological and the graduate school student should include in his curriculum. In addition to the weekly noon meetings, the group holds a picnic each spring.

Front Row: Mrs. Friar, Mr. Friar, E. Nonnamaker, "S" Hinds, T. Crawford, J. Bahmer, A. Page, R. Klinger, W. Herring, Dr. Hatch, F. Weishampel, P. McDonald, J. Richards, H. Winkler.

BIOLOGY CLUB

The Biology Club was first introduced to the campus in 1937, under the auspices of Phi Lambda Pi, the honorary biological fraternity. The club, like many other campus organizations, became inactive during the war years and was not revived until October, 1947.

The purpose of the club is to create greater interest in the study of biology and of the related subjects. The group meets on the second and fourth Thursday of each month and there is a guest speaker. One of the most outstanding speakers of the year was Dr. Charles Leech of Lima, who presented a very interesting lecture on 'the subject of plastic surgery.

The Biology Club occasionally holds social meetings in addition to the more serious ones. This year a wiener roast, a chili dinner, a birthday party for one of the advisors, and a picnic at Indian Lake were enjoyed.

President of the group is Jim Harrod, and assisting in the capacities of vice-president and secretary are Royce Nicholas and Winona Herring. Dean Huber and Dr. Dobbins, heads of the Biology Department, are the club advisers.

DEBATE CLUB

After a suspension of activity during the recent war years, the Ohio Northern Debate Club has been revived. The pre-war debaters took part in inter-collegiate debates with various colleges and universities throughout Ohio. Now a sincere and concentrated attempt is being made for a restoration of such a forensic club.

The nucleus of such an organization has been formed under the able chairmanship of Al Dahling. Chosen for debate are questions which will facilitate interest among the students on the campus concerned with expanding their speaking abilities. Such subjects as universal military training, the method of nominating candidates for the Student Council, and a school-operated cafeteria have been informally debated by the club at their weekly Tuesday evening meetings. Although the club members are relatively inexperienced at debating, much valuable practice in public speaking and the presentation of subject matter to audiences has been gained.

The club is under the capable sponsorship of Major Cliffe Deming and Dr. H. H. Vannorsdall.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS CLUB

Organized in the spring of 1946, the Industrial Arts Club has now become an active and important organization for industrial arts majors and other Liberal Arts students interested in related fields. The group meets the first Thursday of each month for informative and enlightening discussions on the handling of woods and metals. This year the I. A. C. has entertained representative speakers from nearby industrial corporations, cabinet-makers, and a member of the Eluffton Art Department who gave a very interesting discourse on wood-carving. The club members have also witnessed various sound films and silent slides on subjects relative to the vocational interests of the group. The I. A. C. has been socially active, having had several dinners for members and their families.

Officers of the club are: Richard Fry, president; John Hutton, vice-president; and Arden Ross, secretary. Professor D. F. Kittle of the Department of Industrial Arts is the faculty adviser for the club.

Front Row: D. Nash, J. West, B. Stepfield, M. Metzger, Mrs. Ritz, M. Noble, H. Hoxter, R. Suhr, and R. Spees.
 Second Row: M. Ross, R. Vogel, J. Rogers, R. Hurst, C. Motter, H. Murray, R. Granlee, and J. Walker.

BUSINESS CLUB

The Northern Business Club was organized in the winter quarter of 1947, and, inactive for two quarters this year, it was reorganized on March 30, 1948. The purpose of the club is to promote professional interest, to encourage social contacts, and to explore the practical side of the business world. The group has taken several field trips to business places, such as Westinghouse Electric and the Ohio-Kentucky Manufacturing Company. It has entertained a number of speakers from the surrounding territory who have been successful in their fields. At various times, talks, movies, and demonstrations of modern business machines have made interesting programs.

The club meets bi-weekly in Alumnae Hall. Our faculty adviser this year is Mrs. Ritz, who has worked along with the group and helped much in its reorganization.

LAW

DEAN WESTCOAT PETTIT

The Warren G. Harding College of Law was organized as a department of this university in 1885, and it has been in continuous operation since that time. It numbers among its alumni and former students many of the most prominent lawyers in Ohio and the surrounding states. Its graduates have been successful beyond the average as candidates for admission to the bar.

The college holds membership in the League of Ohio Law Schools, and is fully approved by the League.

The aim of its founders, continued through the ensuing years, was to afford an opportunity for students of limited means, both men and women, to obtain collegiate training in law, and through connection with the university to offer them the added opportunity for the general preliminary education indispensable to its successful study and practice.

The College of Law has four chief aims: to inculcate a systematic and complete grounding in the history and fundamental principles of law arising in modern society; to impart a thorough and ready knowledge of the common law and statutory law so that the lawyer can serve his clients efficiently; to show the place, importance and aims of law in society; and to inculcate the principles of legal ethics and public responsibility so that the lawyer can take his place as guide in his community.

TOASTMASTERS

The Toastmasters Club was founded in 1934 by a group of law students who wished to develop the art of after-dinner speaking. The club is limited to fifteen members. Only law students appointed by outgoing members and approved by the club are admitted to membership. At weekly Wednesday evening meetings, a member gives one legal and one non-legal speech, after which the other members give a critique of the orations. Many times the critiques develop into friendly arguments, but everyone emerges unscathed. Thus, by friendly criticism and careful analysis, the elocutionary ability of the members is vastly improved.

At the end of each quarter a social meeting is held, to which the club's members, their wives, and the dean of the law college are invited.

Upon appointment to the club, each member is presented with a certificate of membership. New officers are elected each quarter, and no dues are paid.

The avowed purpose of the organization is to develop the forensic abilities of its members both in forum and extemporaneous speaking.

JUNIOR BAR ASSOCIATION

The Junior Bar Association is the radiating center of all activity of the law college. It acquaints the embryo lawyer with the organization with which he will come into contact after graduation. It is the organization through which the law college can work with its fledgling lawyers. It harmonizes the interests and aims of the law student with the purposes of the law college. It facilitates an understanding between the professor of law and the law student so that the maximum amount of good may be had by each as a result of his contact with the college.

Upon enrollment into the college, all students automatically become members of this organization. It has no faculty adviser and is governed by the students under a constitution which they themselves drafted.

The enlightening purpose of the Junior Bar Association is the promotion of good fellowship and the furtherance of legal knowledge through contact with outside speakers and members of the profession.

In addition to its more serious activities, the association participates in the campus social life. The big event for the law students is the annual spring Barristers' Ball.

PHARMACY

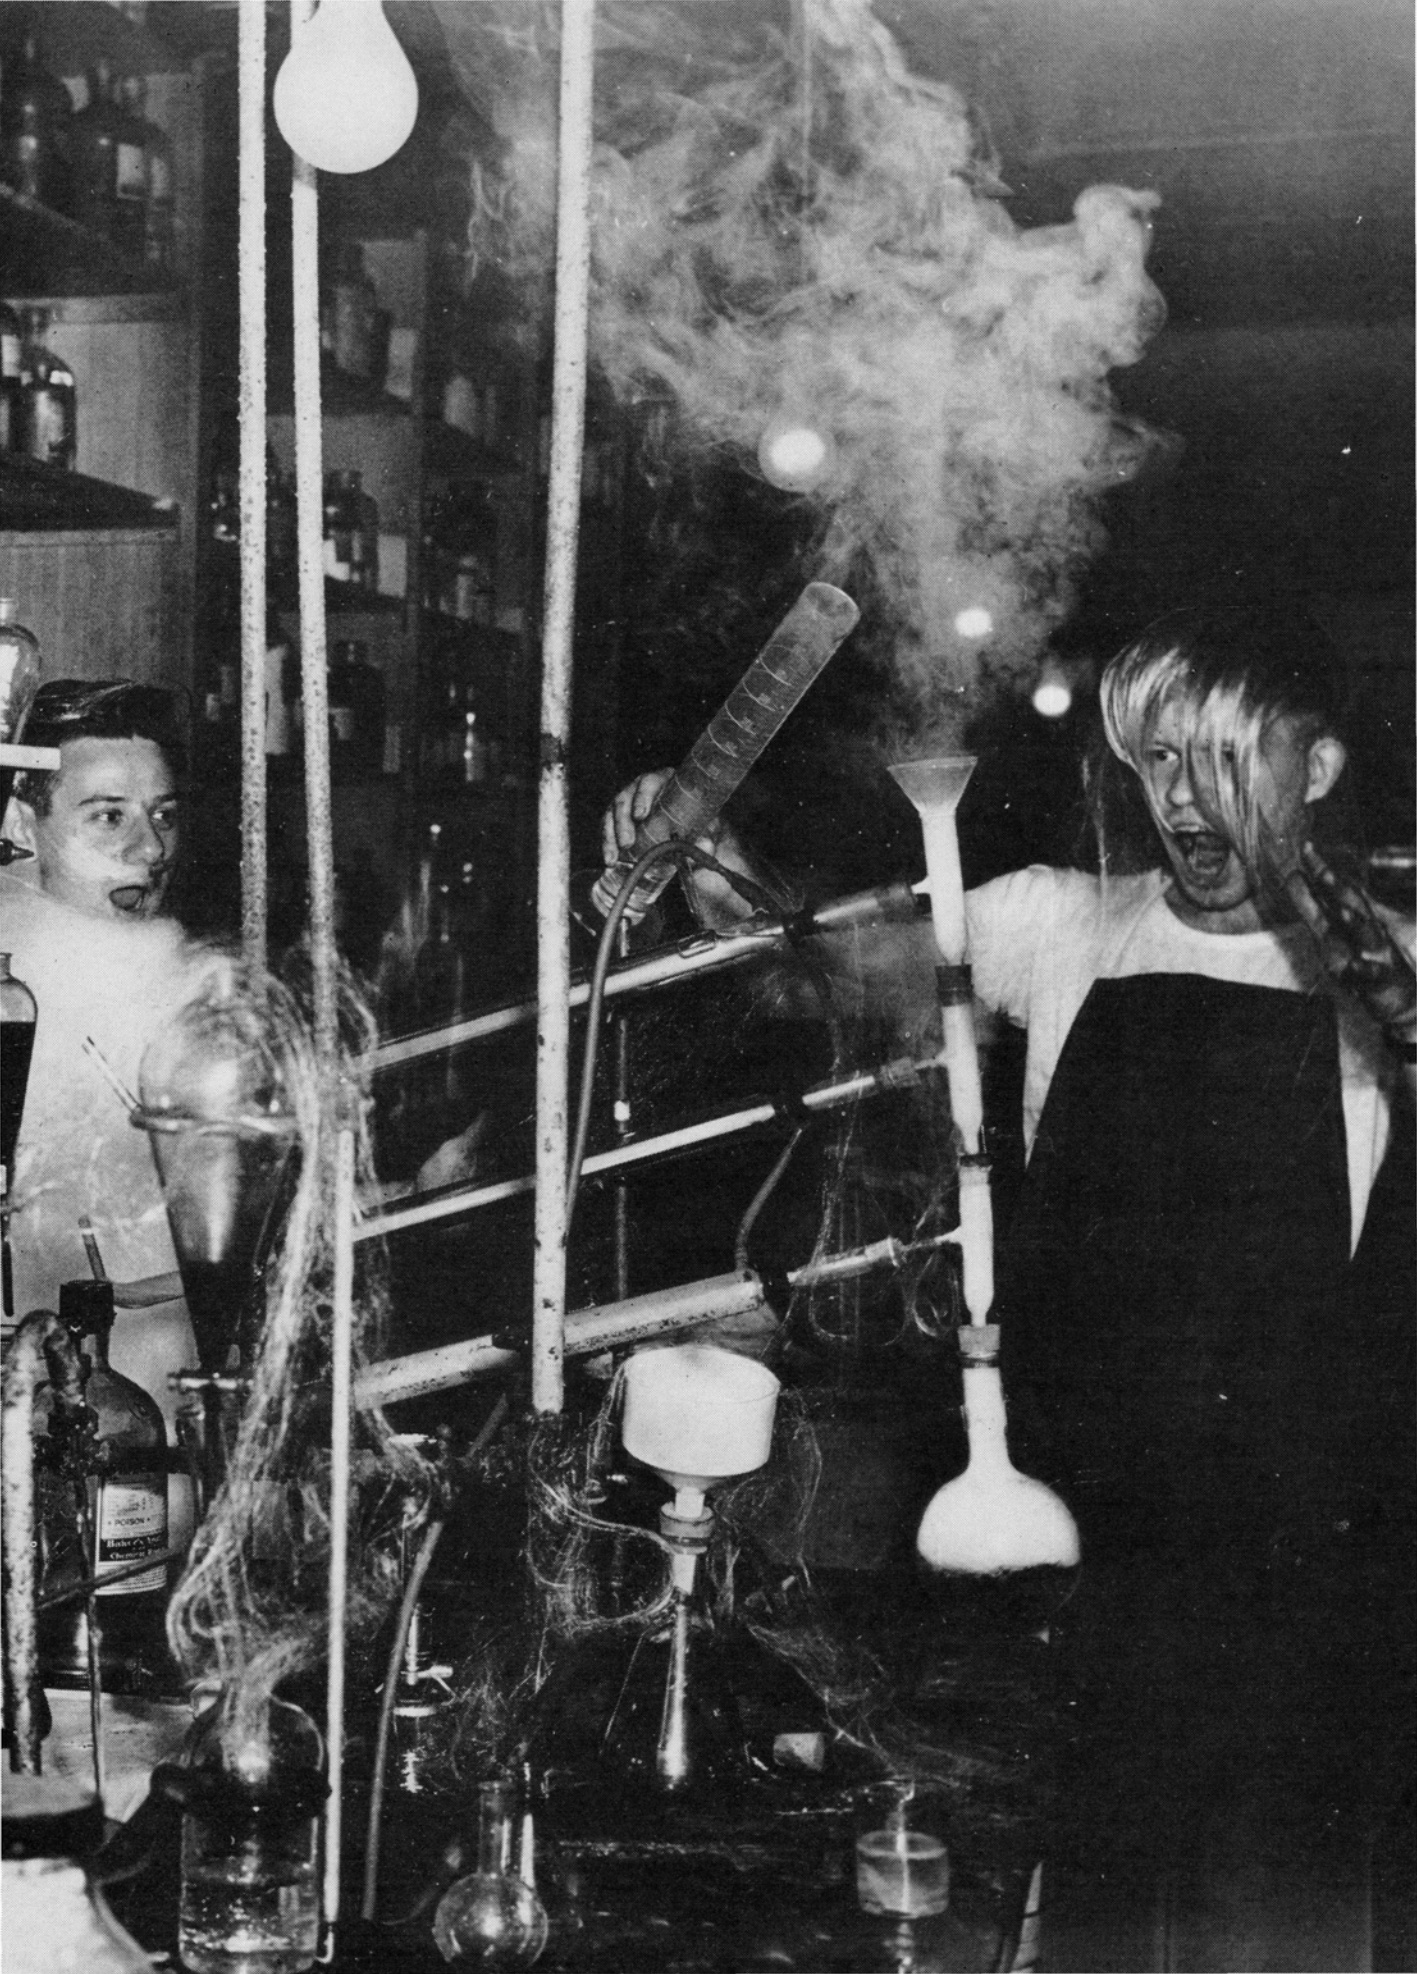

DEAN RUDOLPH HENRY RAABE

Ohio Northern College of Pharmacy is listed among the first ten pharmacy schools in the United States. Enrollment is fast outgrowing the capacities of the school. One-half of the applicants are being admitted for enrollment. The College of Pharmacy is a member of the American Association of Colleges of Pharmacy and is accredited by the American Council on Pharmaceutical Education.

The curricula are designed to train the students for the practice of retail pharmacy and to provide a broad scientific education which will qualify them to enter many positions in the field of pharmacy and related sciences. The program of study is arranged to permit some degree of specialization to provide the graduate with the background for a particular branch of the profession.

The College of Pharmacy of Ohio Northern University developed from the sub-departments of Science and Medicine. Following the passage of a law in Ohio in 1884 requiring registration with the Ohio Board of Pharmacy of all who wished to practice the profession, Pharmacy was changed from a subdepartment to a separate and integral part of the university organization. The college prepares men and women not only to fulfill the legal requirements of the profession, but also to promote personal and public health, to serve the medical practitioner, and to maintain the high standards of the profession of pharmacy.

THE AMERICAN CHEMICAL SOCIETY

The American Chemical Society is a national organization of professional chemists, and is one of the outstanding scientific bodies in the nation.

The Ohio Northern student affiliates of the American Chemical Society make an effort to combine the interests and ideas of chemistry majors, chemical engineers, and pharmacy students.

The activities of the Chemical Society are primarily of a technical nature. The organization has had many varied and interesting talks by men in the chemistry profession. The society also has tried to give its members a well-rounded program by inviting speakers from other colleges on the campus. Demonstrations of chemical manufacturing methods and movies about experimental chemistry aided materially to bridge the gap between the chemistry student and the professional chemist.

JOHN WESLEY HILL MEMORIAL

ENGINEERING

DEAN ALEXANDER RAFFEN WEBB

The College of Engineering dates back to 1871, when Dr. Henry Solomon Lehr founded the Northwestern Ohio Normal School. Its curriculum consisted of a course of surveying, a subject then in great demand.

Courses were added to the engineering curriculum, and demands for engineering increased to such an extent that the 1890's saw engineering a separate unit of Ohio Normal University.

This year the Engineering College was the second largest college in the university and had approximately two hundred fifty students. The engineering classes occupied all of Hill Building and overflowed into Brown and Duke Buildings.

The college had developed from the single surveying course to a college composed of Chemical, Mechanical, Civil and Electrical Engineering Schools.

Dean Alexander Raffin Webb is Dean of Engineering College and head of the Civil Engineering Department. Professor J. A. Weishampel is in charge of the Mechanical Engineering Department and Professor R. E. Walter heads the Electrical Engineering Department.

The two large classes that were a product of the veteran's training program passed on to the junior and senior years of engineering. Even though some students had left school and some had changed courses, there remained a large number in those classes.

ENGINEERING EXECUTIVE COUNCIL

The Executive Council of the engineering student body is composed of the four officers of the AIEE, ASME, and ASCE. These twelve meet whenever an occasion arises that requires co-ordination of the three societies.

The council elects its own officers. The past year, Charles Stang was president; James Dickman, vice-president; and Robert Donkelaar, secretary-treasurer.

The main task of the year was preparation for Engineer's Week. Each society handled its share of the burden, and through the Executive Council the entire week was planned and completed without mishap.

ASCE

Each year since 1925 the student chapter of the American Society of Civil Engineers of Ohio Northern University has organized to receive from and contribute to the field of civil engineering.

The past year has seen sixty-five members in the student chapter at Ohio Northern. The students elected as their officers are: Robert Donkelaar, president; Forrest Miller, vice-president; William Jacobs, secretary; and Joseph Turney, treasurer. Dean Alexander Webb served as faculty adviser to the civils.

The bi-weekly assemblies provided entertainment and education by means of movies and speakers. The movies were produced by various engineering companies and depicted subjects of interest to civil engineering students.

The speakers were usually graduate engineers. Two were Mr. George Salter and Mr. Charles Ash. Mr. Salter, the Middle West representative of ASCE, Chicago, spoke on the bettering of engineers' social standing. Mr. Ash, Lima city engineer and alumnus of ONU, related the future possibilities for a civil engineer in Lima.

During the year several students also had the opportunity to speak at the Thursday night meetings.

ASME

The students in mechanical engineering in 1920 established a club that was known as the Northern Society of Mechanical Engineers. Their purpose was "to promote the arts and sciences that were affiliated with the Mechanical Industry." After work and perseverance, these same students and their society were accepted by the American Society of Mechanical Engineers.

The school year of 1947-1948 found the ASME with sixty-eight members, and it was one of the largest groups known at Northern. These members, with hard work and the guidance of their adviser, Professor J. A. Weishampel, renovated the mechanical engineering laboratory.

Officers for the past year were: Roger Wright, president; Charles Stang, vice-president; William Sutts, secretary; and Charles O'Bryant, treasurer.

The ASME held bi-weekly meetings throughout the year on Thursday evenings. These meetings consisted of movies and lectures. The students of the society made field trips also to increase their working knowledge of the mechanical field.

One such trip was to the Lima Locomotive Works, Lima, Ohio, where they saw the steps in the production of steam railway engines from beginning to end,

AIEE

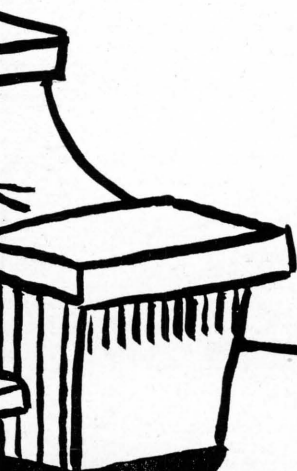

The Ohio Northern University student chapter of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers was formed in 1912. During thirty-five years, it has served the electrical engineering students of the university by giving them workable knowledge of the field through contact with graduate engineers, through movies, and through field trips.

The AIEE of 1947-1948 had as its officers: Donald Reel, president; Frank Kelly, vice-president; Jack Smith, secretary; and Dean Todd, treasurer. The faculty advisers were Professors Walters and Jackson.

The year's activities included weekly meetings and field trips. The sixty-two members of the society saw interesting and educational movies pertaining to their field at the meeting. Occasionally, the meetings were addressed by graduate engineers who gave the students practical information about the electrical engineer at work. The field trips were to the Triplett Plant at Bluffton, Ohio, and to Case Institute, Cleveland, Ohio. A third trip was to the district AIEE meeting at Dayton, Ohio. It was a three day trip and included inspection tours of Wright Field.

STUDENT COUNCIL

One of the most important organizations for creating a more united spirit on campus is the Student Council. Its purpose is to promote fellowship and scholarship and to work cooperatively for the betterment of the university. The activities of the council have been fairly limited this year, since the council was reorganized in the fall of 1947.

The council is responsible for the handling of all "all-campus" functions. These include the running of class elections, May Day Activities, Homecoming Day, and others throughout the year.

Along with these routine duties the council strives to reach a better understanding between the administration and the student body. Through their efforts the ideas and suggestions of the students are presented to the administration, with the goal always being an improved and more efficient university.

With the reorganization of the council being completed and the representatives elected for the coming year, there is no doubt that we shall see new and better things for the students of the university.

PRESSER HALL

Notes from Presser

The department of music, sympathetic to that crystallizing surge of spirit on campus this year, has kept step to Joe G. I.'s relentless modification towards an earlier counterpart, Joe College. The influx of music majors, augmented by a substantial number of interested students in the other colleges, has given the musical movement a solid physical background. Last Spring, from Presser Music Hall, sounds of tinkling piano keys, lusty vocal cords, and ascending harmonics, once again began filtering through long-stilled walls.

At Thanksgiving time the bulwarks were strengthened by the arrival of Mr. Harbo. He immediately began his challenging task, reorganizing the orchestra and band; the latter steadily growing as it began to prepare for a Spring concert series. With Professor Lamale guiding the enlarged piano and organ department, Professor Roider was in a position to coordinate activities of the entire department. After a season highlighted by Professor Roider's Chorus-Choir, Spring found Northern host to the sparkling soprano, Dorothy Maynor.

The year's most obvious activity culminated in mid-April, as thirty-five hundred youngsters journeyed to ONU for the North-Western Ohio Music Festival. With campus-wide cooperation the day achieved success—serving as tangible evidence that the university increasingly was becoming richer by the strengthening, eager, department of music.

Sopranos: W. Creps, D. Imler, D. Henninger, E. Parker, C. St. Louis, D. St. Louis, L. Shirley, M. A. Spar, M. Swartz, C. Winegardner.

Altos: J. Balmer, L. Darnell, R. Harris, H. Haxter, R. Richetts, N. Rath, L. Shenk, J. Sloane, M. Stedcke, M. L. Wegman.

THE CHOIR

Persevering throughout the year with hard working enthusiasm, the chorus-choir satisfyingly provided the campus with a wealth of musical activity. Starting in early September with an eager, pliable group of nearly eighty voices, Professor Roider immediately began molding this heterogeneous, yet responsive group into a cooperative corps of musicians. By capitalizing on the cohesive effect of the thirty experienced members of last year's choir, the passage of time and work saw the emergence of a promising choral organization. This group in which was represented every college on the campus, adjusted steadily in its application to the task at hand.

Its repertoire progressively absorbed all types of music, ranging from the bucolic "Country Style" to Handel's dramatic, impressive "Messiah." Proving to possess collective as well as individual musical process, the choir added a capella and piano-accompanied works alike to its growing musical library.

Professor Roider, imbued thoroughly in the cultural influences of his alma mater, The Eastman School of Music, and influenced strongly by an avid interest in contemporary interpretations, found gratifying expression through wide selection of classic and popular themes.

Tenors: T. Brook, P. Brown, J. Carey, R. Spees, J. Stager, E. This, R. Willekie, C. Witt.
 Basses: J. Balmer, J. Banks, M. Beck, K. Bushong, H. Hunter, C. Mustine, H. Sousley Jr., R. Suhr,

The Choral-Cabaret in November completed the choir's first major activity. Quickly modifying its style, the versatile group joined voices with visiting soloists in a well received presentation of the sacred oratorio, "The Messiah." Rough edges were smoothed as the tentative spring concert program assumed concrete proportions. Correctly visualizing the listeners' broad scope of musical interest, Professor Roider chose a group of widely varied selections. Sacred music was selected to constitute the first part of the performance, with a capella renditions noticeably emphasized. These were followed by lighter secular folk songs and popular works, which allowed for capable solo expression.

With confidence gained from occasional chapel appearance, the group performed a concert in Toledo. By mid-February Bluffton and Lima had entertained the roaming songsters, who next enjoyed thoroughly their Cleveland appearance at the Endowment Drive Kick-off Banquet.

Provided with attractive black and white formal ensembles and tuxedos, the choir sallied forth in March toward New York. Months of diligent preparation made this active group a small pebble creating a large ripple.

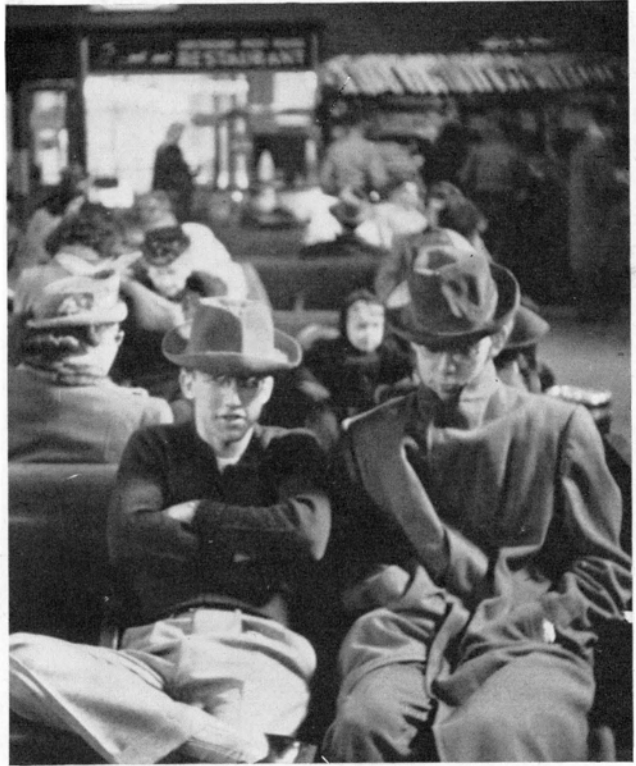

CHORAL CABARET

Instead of a gymnasium, a softly-lighted cafe greeted the surprised entrant. This stimulating change characterized an exciting innovation, the Choral-Cabaret. Inspiration, along with clever planning, found expression in establishing this sparkling atmosphere. The expansive lines of the massive architecture had been softened and subdued, and the hardwood floor was covered with many small tables. The choristers, doubling as continental garçons, provided the patrons with a steady flow of refreshments.

Timed appropriately, the choir's surprise unfolded. As the guests settled back, the chorus-choir slowly entered the cabaret in a long file. Attired in formal evening dress and lighting their way with burning candles, the carolers began their song. The carefully-rehearsed program of Fred Waring arrangements were warmly appreciated by an admiring audience. Especially enjoyed was the charming rendition of the familiar Yuletide poem "Twas the Night before Christmas." As the echoes of the evening subsided to a hushed calm, fond memories, long to be cherished, lingered quietly on this fleeting glimpse of a colorful old world atmosphere.

New York or Bust

Seventy songsters awaited the posting which disclosed "Who is going on the trip?" With an ample repertoire of sacred and secular numbers, forty-three choristers and the Roiders headed eastward on the lengthy tour. Rollercoasting through the Appalachians, and viewing places rich in historical lore, the explorers reached New York. After a scintillating weekend, the itinerary swung northward through picturesque Rip Van Winkle country. At last the Greyhounds raced homeward through the Mohawk Valley, cherishing fondly memories of their weeks' adventurous travels.

THE BAND

The Ohio Northern University Band was under the direction of Professor Karl Roider until the beginning of the winter quarter, when Professor Alf Harbo, the new instrumental instructor, assumed the position.

During the football season, Jack Bigelow and Eugene This worked out various letter formations to be used at the games. Under Jack's leadership, the band went through several of these maneuvers while marching in ankle-deep mud at the homecoming game.

During the winter quarter the band practiced marches at the noon hour in Presser Hall, in preparation for the basketball games. The enthusiasm shown at the games indicates that the pep songs were much appreciated by the student body. The band has tried to provide pleasure as well as to raise the school spirit. Those who composed the 1947-1948 band found enjoyment and musical inspiration to join the Ohio Northern University Band, in order to make the organization bigger and better in the future.

In Action

While the last few battles of the basketball season were being fought, the members of the ONU band were hard at work in preparation for its debut. With Professor Alf Harbo able to devote his full time and energy to baton-swinging, the band was in fine form when it made its initial performance. In May the orchestra, with Maestro Harbo conducting, presented a fine concert which was enjoyed by many in an immaculate Presser Hall.

NORTHERN PLAYERS

In 1921 the Northern Players, under the supervision of Major Cliffe Deming, began portraying a long line of outstanding productions. All types of dramas, comedies, histories, tragedies, and Shakesperian plays, have been presented to appreciative audiences who admired the versatility of the student-actors and the capability of their able director. During the past year the Players have presented two full length plays which will be long remembered. These were a comedy, Bachelor's Wife, and a history, The Washington Years.

There is within this group of Thespians an especially interested group who are banded together under the Greek letters, Theta Alpha Phi. Although this fraternity was inactive during the war years, it was re-established recently and looks forward to the success that it has known in the past. Theta Alpha Phi is represented in twenty-four states, and eight chapters are located in Ohio colleges and universities. For the coming years the Northern Players aspire to enjoy the success that they have known since 1921.

WASHINGTON YEARS

Nat Sherman's The Washington Years was produced in the spring quarter, to the enjoyment of those who attended it during its two night run. The Northern Players took special pride in presenting this play prior to its Broadway production. The story concerns Abraham Lincoln's troubled years in the nation's capital. The throes of the Civil War, the pressures exerted by politics, and his domestic difficulties offer substance for the plot of this three-act play.

A FEW MORE YEARS !!

A very excellent portrayal of Abraham Lincoln was given by Joseph Baker. Other outstanding roles were undertaken by Arden Ross, Henry Hollinger, John Dunlap, and Beverly Kennedy.

Many interesting and educational sidelights of historical value were offered by The Washington Years, and the audience accepted it as a truly commendable presentation. Both the Northern Players and Major Cliffe Deming, the director, merit praise for their efforts and accomplishments.

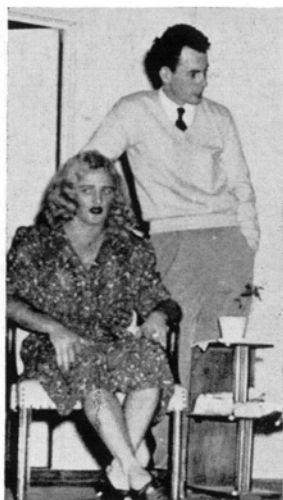

After such a successful attempt by Northern's thespians to stage a play of as great importance as The Washington Years, the theatre-minded students look to the future with great anticipation for each drama offered by the Players.

BACHELOR'S WIFE

Conrad Seiler's farce in three acts? Bachelor's Wife, was presented in the middle of the fall quarter. The play, which marked another milestone on the Players' road of success, was well accepted by an entertained audience. The well-webbed plot and the flexibility of action kept the audience thoroughly amused until the last curtain fell. Those who saw the play will remember the young bachelor filled with literary ideals and his wealthy, eccentric father. With this in the foreground, the play hilariously extended to an unexpected yet satisfactory ending.

STUDENT CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION

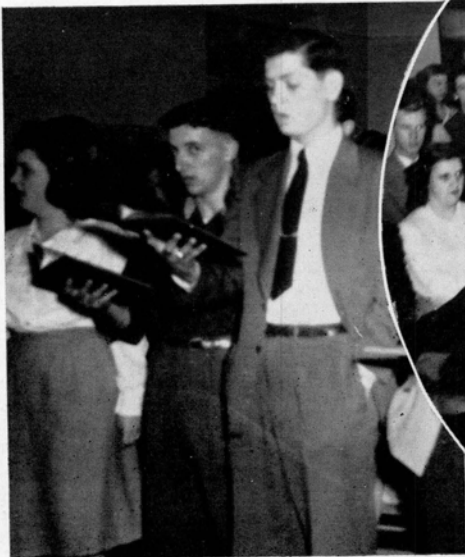

The fourth year of the Student Christian Association proved to be very successful from a number of standpoints. Formed in 1944 by the combination of the YMCA and the YWCA, the SCA has now developed into one of the leading organizations on the campus.

The group chose to meet bi-weekly this year, alternating with the International Relations Club which the SCA inaugurated in the spring of 1947. The vice-president, Paul Brown, and his committee set up a highly integrated program for the SCA with the following emphases: Fall Quarter—Personal Growth; Winter Quarter—Religious Heritage; Spring Quarter—Social Responsibility and World Relatedness.

As in the years previous, the SCA took part in Freshman Week. Stressing community service, they visited the Lyle Convalescent Home in Ada just before Easter. During February they sponsored their annual campus-wide drive for the World Student Service Fund and raised over two hundred dollars for that cause. In conjunction with the International Relations Club, a Cosmopolitan Banquet was given honoring our students from foreign lands. Several representatives from the SCA attended the spring YM-YW training conference in southern Ohio. The group also had charge of several chapel programs.

SCA in Action

Under the leadership of its able president, Don Vannorsdall, the SCA entered with vigor into the problems of campus life. Three of its outstanding projects were the formation of the Debate Club, the opinion poll conducted in chapel, and the all-campus Carnival in May.

ASSOCIATION OF WOMEN STUDENTS

Representing the largest organization on campus, A.W.S. holds within the bonds of its membership every woman attending Ohio Northern.

The social and business functions of the organization are directed by the A.W.S. Board, which meets weekly with the Dean of Women. In former years, the A.W.S. Board acted also in the capacity of a disciplinary board; however, this power no longer falls 'within its jurisdiction.

The organization has held several outstanding social affairs this past year. Early in the Fall quarter, a Fiesta Forum was held in which the entire theme was carried out in Mexican style. During the Christmas season, the "Holiday Inn," one of the most successful dances of the year, was presented. The winter meeting was carried out with a formal dinner and a book review. Spring quarter's activities included a candle-light installation service and a coffee hour.

Acting as both an adviser and associate of the group is Mrs. Alexander Webb, Dean of Women.

INDEPENDENT WOMEN

The Girls' Independent Club appeared on the campus on April 29, 1946. At the first meeting of the group, the independent seniors were honored by a waffle supper after which the first officers of the club were elected.

Upon the approval of the organization's constitution by the university president, the club gained official recognition in the fall of 1946. The main object of the association is to function as a body of independent girls for academic and social purposes. Membership consists of independent girls and transfer students not affiliated with any Ohio Northern sorority.

During the first year on the campus, the group sponsored a weekly music hour. The hour featured carefully selected recorded music and student presentations. Other activities of the year were buffet and potluck suppers, a Christmas party, a "kid party," an outdoor supper, and a senior dinner.

A homecoming dinner for returning alumnae, a wiener roast, and Christmas caroling were highlights of this second year. Also, in April, the Independents and the Amvets sponsored an all campus dance, "The Spring Swing."

STUDENT DIRECTORS OF PUBLICATIONS

The Student Directors of Publications have acted as an intermediate Board of Control for the student publications, the NORTHERN, and THE NORTHERN REVIEW.

Late in the winter quarter, after many conferences of the students interested in publications with the Student Council, the publications committee, and Dr. McClure, authorization for publishing the REVIEW and the NORTHERN was given. Upon recommendation of the Student Council, the publications committee, consisting of Professor Frank Berger, Dr. Robert Hilliard, and Dr. A. C. Smith, appointed to the official, but temporary, capacity of Student Directors of Publications, Thomas Brook, Riley Hall, William Shryock, and George McDonald.

As a group, with the guidance of Eugene Hanson as faculty adviser, these four men have decided on intermediate publications policies. Problems of subscriptions, circulation, personnel, expansion of newspaper, coordination between two staffs using the same equipment, photographers, files, and of staff meetings were ironed out at Directors' meetings.

Constructive criticism and a spirit of cooperation have worked together in producing the student publications with some (measure of) success.

REVIEW STAFF

The present Northern Review, a five-column, four-page bi-weekly, is virtually an infant, a post-war baby who has cried, clawed, and scratched its way to the surface of campus affairs.

Established during the middle of the winter quarter, the paper published seven issues before the end of the spring quarter. Its present organization consists of four student directors, four editorial writers, and a staff of more than twenty contributors.

The avowed purpose of the staff is to provide the students with a competent organ for the dissemination of pertinent information. Like every new organization, the Review has been subjected to confusion, criticism, and the lack of past experience to lean upon. The group of beavers who organized the new project resorted to every tactic, from politics to piano playing, to bring the sheet before the public. They quite justifiably believe they have been successful.

The small publications office at the rear of Brown Building has managed to collect a large group of journalistically-bent minds, to mix them all into a fine state of confusion, and to produce an amateurish but effective newspaper, every two weeks.

THE NORTHERN STAFF

The beginning of the spring quarter found the yearbook merely in its embryonic stage, at which time the staff consisted only of the editor, the assistant-editor, and the business manager. Foreseeing the tremendous amount of work that lay before them, this group remained at school during the spring vacation to outline the book and to set up its skeleton. However, business was not held to the confines of the school, for it was necessary to contact several publishing houses and printing companies to secure engraving and printing rates.

In the latter part of March the appointments were completed for the positions on the editorial and the secretarial staffs. Although these groups were instrumental in making the annual possible, a considerable amount of credit must be extended to many others who devoted their time and talent in writing stories and histories of their fraternities, sororities, clubs, and organizations.

This annual was produced at break-neck speed, and even though only a little more than two months was spent in its completion, hard work, long hours, and personal sacrifices were expended by each member of the staff in its attempt to give you, the students and alumni of ONU, a yearbook that is worthy of the name of the Ohio Northern University.

AMVETS

The American veterans of World War II, now officially known as AMVETS, are represented on the campus by the Harry E. Gossard Post No. 62. It is justly named after a prominent O.N.U. student and athlete who gave his life while in the service. The post's charter was received in October, 1946. This put the organization on a national basis, qualifying it to offer unlimited services concerning veterans' affairs. Veterans on the campus are able to obtain the professional services of an attorney, who will capably handle any grievances free of charge.

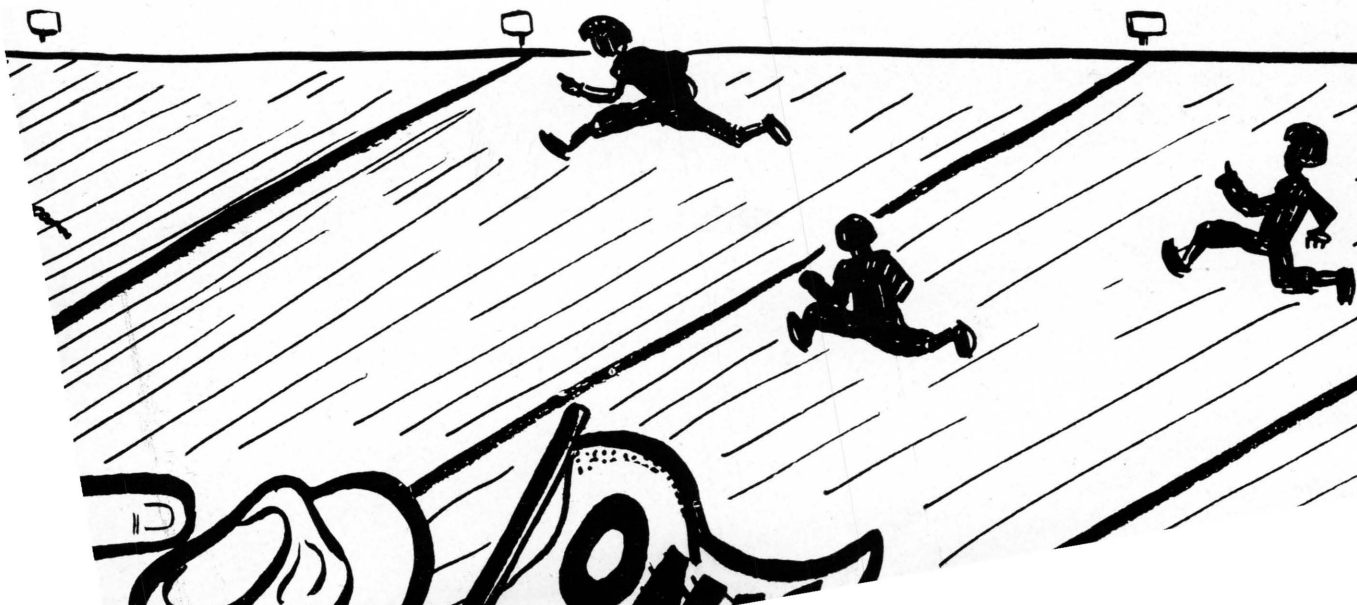

A program is being followed to stimulate social life on the campus by sponsoring dances and other types of entertainment. Projects to better the academic facilities and the appearance of the university, such as sponsoring magazines for the library and participating in clean-up about the campus, are other parts of the program.

AMVETS were well represented in sports, both as spectators at varsity games and as participants in independent sports, having reached the finals in baseball and gaining the runner-up position in basketball.

SPORTS

ATHLETIC DEPARTMENT

The athletic picture at Ohio Northern was greatly improved this past year. Last fall the Polar Bear grid squad emerged from the depths of the Ohio conference cellar when they smashed Wittenberg and Capital on successive Saturdays. The team moved onto a new home gridiron in Ada's Memorial Park, which possesses the finest lighting plant in the state and has bleachers to seat fifteen hundred fans.

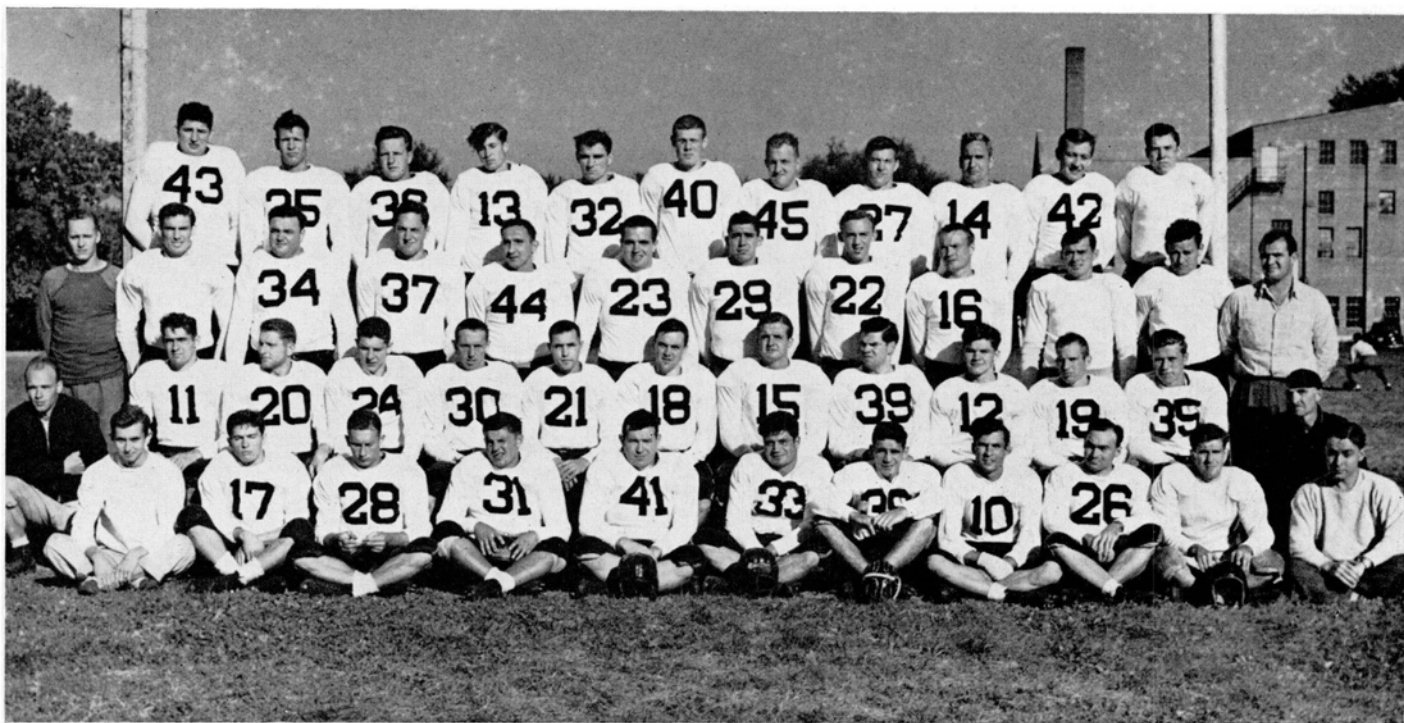

The floor at Taft gym was refinished for the basketball campaign, for the courtmen had the longest home card in many seasons. An innovation was the addition of four out-of-state foes to the schedule. The highlight of the season was a four game win streak.

In the spring baseball took the limelight as the Orange and Black nine modernized Wibbeler Field to exhibit their prowess to the home fans.

Track was revived after a lapse of eight years, and the runners romped on a new oval at Memorial Park. Several outstanding records were established, and the outlook for the future in the cinder sport is extremely bright.

A well-organized intramural program was lined up starting with football in the autumn and concluded by swimming in the summer. With the addition of new equipment and the expanding of facilities it was possible for every student to participate in his chosen athletic endeavor.

FOOTBALL SEASON

Polar Bear football began with great enthusiasm late in August as some fifty-odd candidates reported for pre-season practice. Clyde Lamb, athletic director, assumed the head coaching role vacated by Millard Murphy, who resigned to continue work for his Master's degree. Larry Archer, recent Northern graduate, was signed to handle the duties of line mentor.

One of the stiffest schedules in recent years loomed up as the squad went through its paces prior to the opening fray. The largest crowd to witness a Northern game in over fifteen years was on hand to observe the season's initial encounter at Athens with Ohio University's Bobcats, a foe that returned to the Bear agenda after a lapse of two decades. The breaks were all in favor of the Bobcats as they rolled a 34-0 victory. Thirty-nine Bears players saw action in the game, the largest number ever to be used in an away clash.

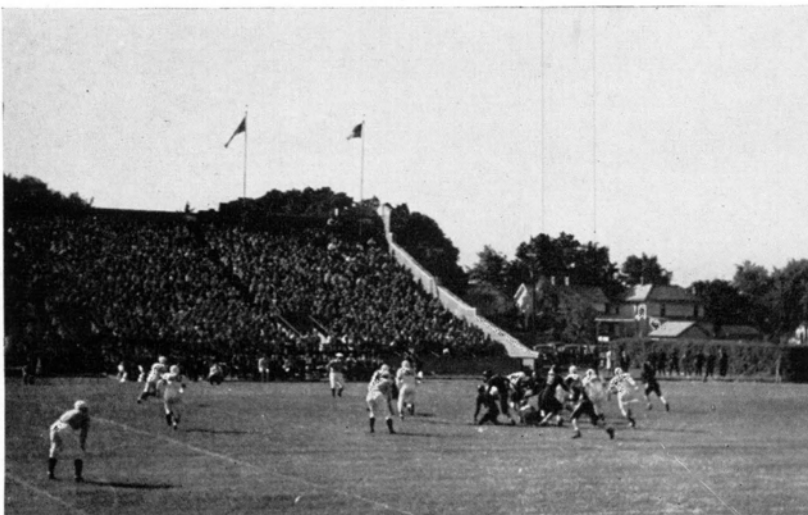

Ashland's Eagles put a damper on Northern's debut under the lights here at Memorial Park when they upset the Bruins 7-0.

A trip to Findlay for a duel with the powerful Oilers resulted in a sensational first half by the Bears, but a second half collapse left them on the short end of a 28-6 count. Roberson aeriased to Kitzler for the season's first touchdown.

Jupiter Pluvius descended on the homecoming battle with Northern's traditional rivals, the Wittenberg Tigers from Springfield. However, the dampness failed to stop the victory-hungry Bears, who controlled the game throughout, finally crashing a TD in the dying moments to give the loyal rain-drenched fans an impressive 7-0 win.

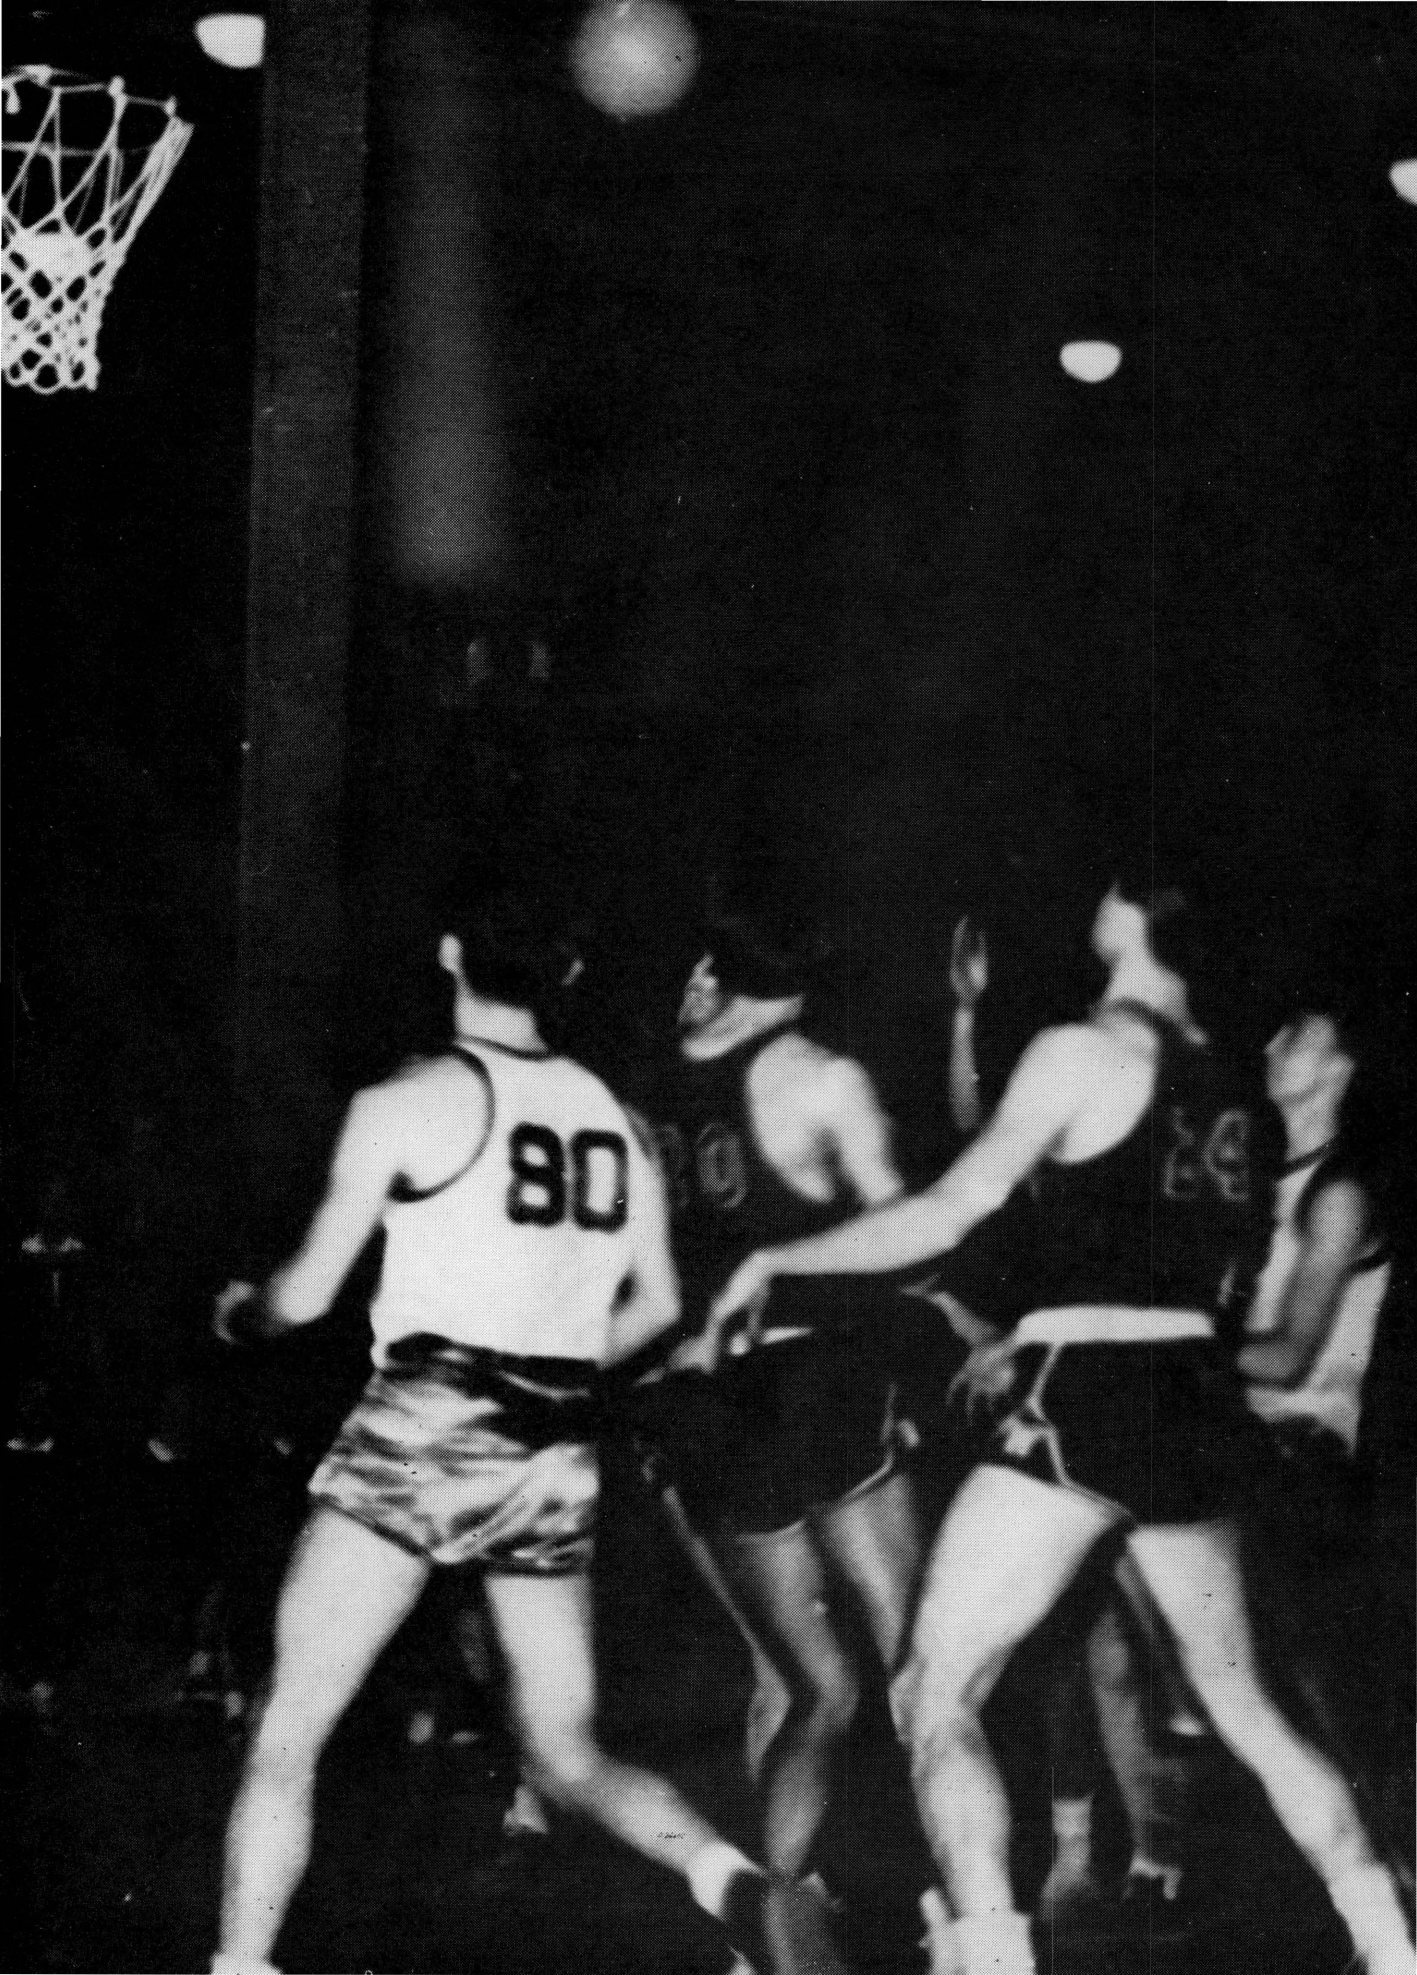

The Bears continued their winning ways by smashing a surprised Capital U. team 13-7 at Bexley's Bernlohr Field. The Lutherans tallied in the first three minutes on a long pass. However, the Lambmen rallied in the second half to hit pay dirt twice on tosses from Roberson to Kitzler. Chuck Strausbaugh added the extra point on a sweep.

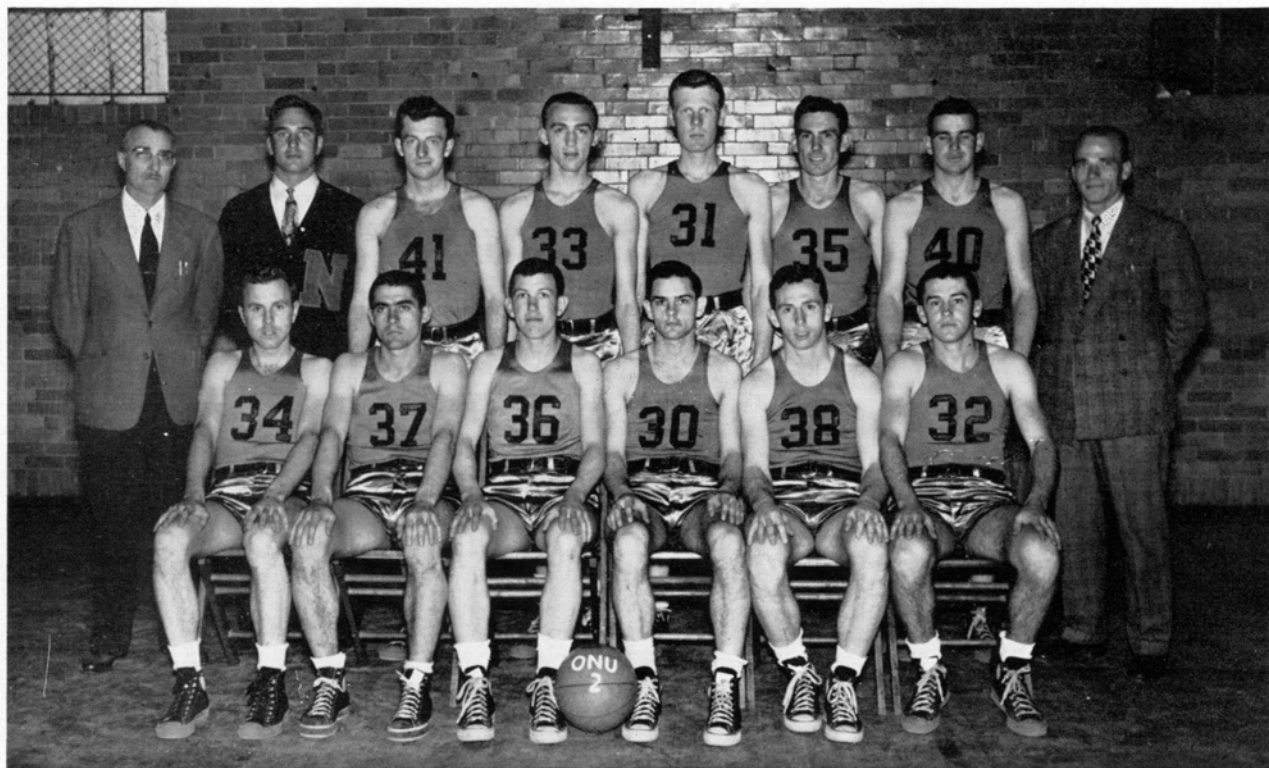

Returning to the Memorial Field gridiron they ran into the hardest-hitting eleven that they had faced all season. Heidelberg's strong attack racked up three touchdowns and its rock-like defense stopped the Bears at every turn. The Student Princes' 20-0 decision ended a long period of Northern dominance over the Tiffin school.

A long, cold journey to New Concord resulted in a 42-0 count in favor of the hosts, the Muskingum Muskies.

On a night better suited for Eskimos the grid campaign was brought to a close at Lima's stadium, when Bluffton's plucky Beavers held the Orange and Black to a six-all deadlock.

BASKETBALL SEASON

Basketball moved in at the start of the winter quarter as Clyde Lamb became the fifth Bear mentor in the last seven years. Eight lettermen returned for the season's initial practice.

At the outset of the campaign it was apparent that Northern lacked the height to cope with the bigger teams in the conference; however, prospects were much brighter than the preceding year, when the Bears had their most disastrous campaign history.

The season's first encounter was at Tiffin where the Lambmen lost a 46-35 verdict to the Heidelberg Student Prices. They returned to the Taft hardwood to open the home schedule with a 55-33 win over nearby Bluffton College. Coach Lamb used three complete teams in order to hold the score down. Indiana Tech closed the Bear's pre-holiday card by falling before the Orange and Black 64-46, as thirteen players broke into the scoring column.

Heidelberg spoiled the home conference debut by thumping the locals 50-42 before the largest home crowd in six years. The following Tuesday the Polar Bears rose to their peak from when they upset Wittenberg's Tigers 60-58 behind the sharpshooting of Hayden and Arthur. It was Northern's third win over the Tigers since the series started in 1918. Muskingum's Muskies, boasting the highest scoring team in the state, ran wild in the second half to win 76-42.

Northern's first invasion of Indiana wound up with a sensational record-shattering performance by Arden Roberson, but his 35 points on the Maytag court were to no avail, as Taylor's Trojans rallied in the third period to take a 77-72 decision. Capital's defending conference champions showed the Lambmen no mercy when they ran up an 83-50 score in their bandbox Lay gym.

Returning to the confines of their home floor, they annexed conference win No. 2 by drubbing the Findlay Oilers 57-51, as four players hit for double figures in scoring. Ashland became the victim, for the Bears reversed an earlier loss on the Eagles' floor by dropping the visitors 63-47 after rolling up a 21-3 edge in the opening stanza. Fred Church broke a long losing streak for the Orange when he flipped in a set shot from w-a-y out to give the Bears a 51-50 victory over Bluffton's rugged Beavers. The Dynamics of Detroit Tech fell 59-56, as the Bears ran their win streak to four. Roberson hooked in 26 markers to lead the point parade.

Another trip to the Hoosier State resulted in a 69-63 loss in the spacious Huntington community gym to the Huntington College Foresters in spite of a furious rally in the final canto. Findlay's Oilers came from behind in the last two minutes to edge them 47-46 on the Oiler floor. Wittenberg also gained revenge by drubbing the Orange-shirts 62-39 at Springfield. The final out-of-state trip of the year found the Bears' luck all bad, for they lost to the Engineers of Indiana 53-52 at Fort Wayne.

The season ended with a spirited finish as the Orange and Black spotted Huntington a 33-7 second quarter advantage and then went wild in the last two frames to narrow the gap to 69-64 at the gun. Roberson and Brinkmeyer led the Bears with 24 and 14 points, respectively.

At the conclusion of the campaign Bill Hayden, sophomore from Canton South, was elected honorary captain.

BASEBALL SEASON

The 1948 Baseball season found Ohio Northern's Bears scheduled to play fourteen games with six being booked for our Wibbeler field. Drills started with indoor workouts in February. Over forty diamond aspirants greeted the Bears new coach, Larry Archer, when the campaign opened.

Possessing a host of lettermen from the '47 team which lost only three of their eleven games, the Bears squad was cut to fifteen men just prior to their first game.

In the season's opener at Fort Wayne the Bears crushed Indiana Tech's Engineers 23-0. George Killian limited the Hoosiers to three singles and aided his own cause with a long homer. Ed Gren also contributed a four-master for the Orange and Black.

Capital and Northern were opponents in the first Conference fray which found the Archer-men outthitting the Bexleyites, but faulty defensive efforts gave the home team a 7-6 win. Ed Sandy fanned 13, and Ed Gren slammed another homer to highlight the Bears play.

George Killian won his second game as the Bears trimmed Heidelberg 11-5 at Tiffin. Brilliant relief hurling by southpaw Ed Sandy highlighted the 11-5 victory registered at Bluffton.

Ohio State Jayvees pushed across a run in the 12th inning to spoil the Bears May Day program 2-1. The largest crowd to witness a Bear home fray in many years was in attendance. Ed Gren's long three-bagger drove in Bill Hayden for their only run.

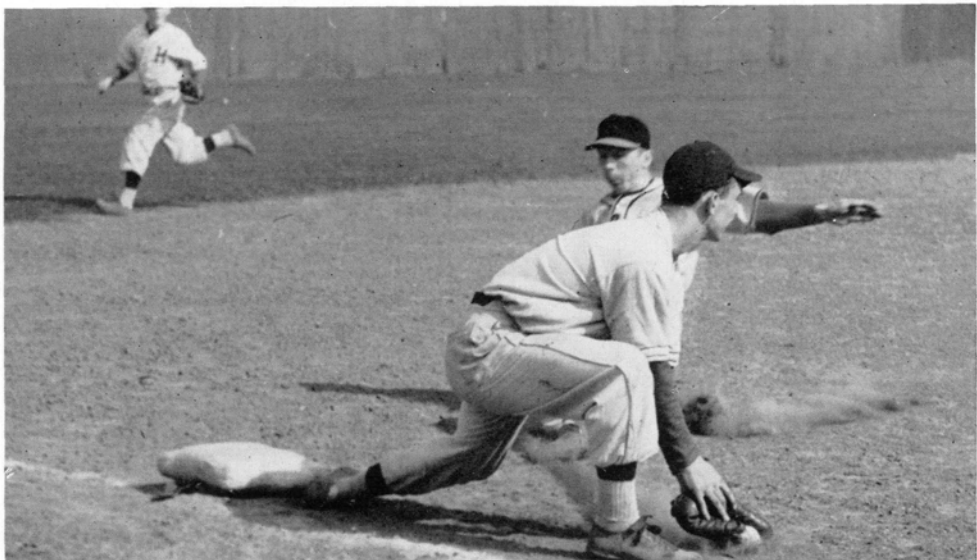

Staging rallies in the fifth and seventh innings the Findlay Oilers edged the Polar Bears 7-6 in a rain drenched contest at Wibbeler field.

A two run single by Al Willoughby in the ninth to knot the score, and a balk by Bob Smith, Ashland hurler, which scored Rothschild in the 10th, were the features of the Bears 4-3 win over the Eagles in an extra inning fray at Ashland.

The season was concluded as the Archer-men lost their fourth one-run decision of the campaign when they fell to Ohio State's Jayvees 5-4 in Columbus.

Although they had only a four won, four lost record the play of the Bears should be commended as they were handicapped by lack of a suitable diamond on which to practice and play. The Bears home diamond was practically useless for several days after a shower that forced the team to cancel four of their six home games.

Hank Miller, hard-hitting catcher, paced the team in hitting with a .546 average. Ed Gren led the club in homers and runs-batted-in and was second in batting with a .364 mark. He also topped the team in fielding, as he didn't commit an error throughout the season. Other .300 sluggers were Hayden .355, Willoughby .324, and Sandy .333. George Killian topped the hurlers with three wins and one loss while Ed Sandy ranked with a one won and two loss record.

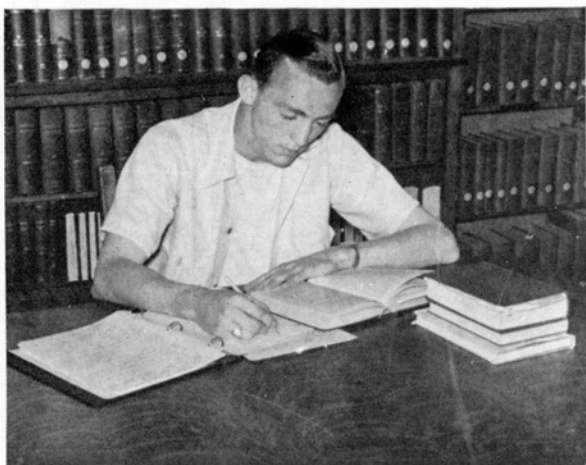

OUTSTANDING ATHLETE

Arden Roberson, six-foot physical education junior from Ada, was voted the outstanding Polar Bear athlete in a poll taken of the coaches of opposing teams in basketball and football.

"Stretch," as he is known to his friends, has shattered almost every existing scoring record for the school in basketball. In addition to his hoop efforts, he is the star passer on the football team and a high jumper on the track squad.

When Arden entered Northern in 1943 he established a new basketball scoring record in his freshman year, pouring in 239 points in 16 games. Returning to ONU from the wars in 1946, he was an end on the football squad and scored a touchdown in the Heidelberg contest. His sophomore year on the hardwood was marked by several outstanding scoring performances, highlighted by a 31 point splurge against Wittenberg.

Arden "Stretch" Roberson

This past year in football "Stretch" played halfback and was the team's leading passer, tossing the ball for four touchdowns. Last winter he established a new individual game high in basketball, hooking in 35 points at Upland, Indiana, against Taylor's Trojans.

N MEN

Since the war this organization has been very active and has been a leader in the development of school spirit, sportmanship, and student morale.

In September elections were held and the new officers for the ensuing year were: Charles Rothschild, president; Bernard Kauffman, vice-president; Robert Davenport, secretary-treasurer.

Some of the N Men's projects for the past year include purchase of fifty award sweaters for lettermen, material and labor for the painting and installation of new fluorescent lights for the trophy case at Taft Gym, compilation of the football homecoming program, distribution of tickets and registration of alumni N men at homecoming, purchase of a new Rae Crother two-man charging sled for the development of linemen, and the purchase of a mimeograph machine for the Physical Education Department.

The latest project is the organizing of the Alumni N Men Association, which entitles its members to free admission to all athletic contests held at Ohio Northern.

The advisers for the N men are Coaches Lamb and Archer, who have given valuable time and assistance, in the various projects.

Many new projects are in the offing, and one can expect to hear many favorable reports from this fine group of athletes.

WOMEN'S ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

The Women's Athletic Association represents one of the most active women's organizations on campus. Its members plan and help to carry out the intramural sports program in addition to instigating a more active interest in sports participation among women at Ohio Northern. The group also holds various social functions throughout the year. During the fall quarter, W.A.A. held a hay ride and wiener roast. Winter quarter's social activities were maintained by a chili dinner during the intramural season. Each spring the annual sports award and recognition banquet is held, and the more active members receive well-earned sweaters, letters, and pins.

W.A.A. is in full charge of the women's intramural program, and its officers plan and direct the various tournaments in basketball, volleyball, kickball, and badminton held during the year.

Officers of the organization are: Mary Alice Spar, president; Beverly Kennedy, vice-president; Jean Ann Morrison, secretary; and Betty Beatty, treasurer. Acting as adviser for this group is Mrs. John Omler, head of the Physical Education Department for Women at Ohio Northern.

Mary Alice Spar, Barbara Jones, Martha Godwin, Adaline Ruble, Margie Scott, Mary Phyllis Jones.

CHEERLEADERS

Inspiring the athletic teams from the sidelines was a capable group of girls from the Cheerleaders' Club. In the fall seven yell-leaders under the direction of Dean Grace Ritter, president of the club, led the cheering at the gridiron clashes. Assisting her in the production of noise were Betty Jenkins, Margie Scott, Barbara Jones, and Ann Ridenour. When Jenkins and Ritter transferred, they were replaced by Martha Lou Godwin, Adaline Ruble, and Mary Phyllis Jones. Mary Alice Spar assumed control of the club for the basketball games.

Uniforms were purchased through the "N" Men and the Student Council, giving our pepmasters the sharpest regalia in the conference at the start of the winter term.

THE APOLLOS

The Kappa Psi basketball five dethroned the Delta Sig quintet to take the 1948 fraternity cage title. The pill rollers and the Phi Mu combine battled down to the final game and knotted for first place. In the deciding affair Miller tossed in 12 points to give the pharmics the trophy by a 26-20 count.

The Theta Kaps and the Phi Mus wound up in a tie for runner-up honors. The Theta Kap hoopsters were the only team to mar an otherwise perfect record for the champs.

In the Independent circuit the high scoring Poverty Hall quintet successfully defended their title when they swept aside all opposition to take seven straight wins. The Amvets finished second with a five won and one lost record. Lehr Village trailer colony took the third spot with a four and two mark. The members of the Poverty Hall winning team received medals along with the title.

Over one hundred and fifty players participated in the two league competition. Spectator interest reached a new high as large crowds were on hand for the title game.

THE DIANES

The Theta Phi Delta sorority again dominated the girls' intramural basketball league. The defending champions retained their laurels in impressive fashion, going through the campaign without a loss. They drubbed the Phi Chi's 11-2, the TKK's 20-11, and the Independents 13-6 in the championship game. The Independents edged the Phi Chi's 8-3, but lost to the TKK's 9-3.

Games in the league play were clean and hard-fought throughout. However, the Thetas continued their supremacy, which they have held for over a decade of loop activity. Outstanding for the winner was forward Mary Alice Spar, who again led the league in scoring. Other regulars on the victorious Theta combine were Rondalee Ricketts, and Jean Ann Morrison, forwards; and Beverly Kennedy, Jeanne Clark, and Janice Graeser, guards.

INTER-FRATERNITY COUNCIL

One of the key governing bodies of the campus is the Inter-Fraternity Council. Composed of the presidents of the eight fraternities, this organization handles all matters involving relations between the fraternity groups.

Foremost among their duties is the business of the adoption of rules and regulations to cover inter-fraternity sports and the judging of inter-fraternity contests such as Homecoming decorations.

This council is responsible, also, for the presentation of the Annual Inter-Fraternity Ball. Through the coordination of the efforts of the individual greek-letter groups, one of the outstanding events of the school year is made possible.

Going further into details with their duties, the Inter-Fraternity Council acts as a liaison unit for the fraternities with the faculty and Student Council. Through meetings with their faculty advisers, they convey to the fraternities the policies of the administration and vice-versa. While, through joint meetings with the Student Council, they provide the united support of the fraternities to the undertakings of this group.

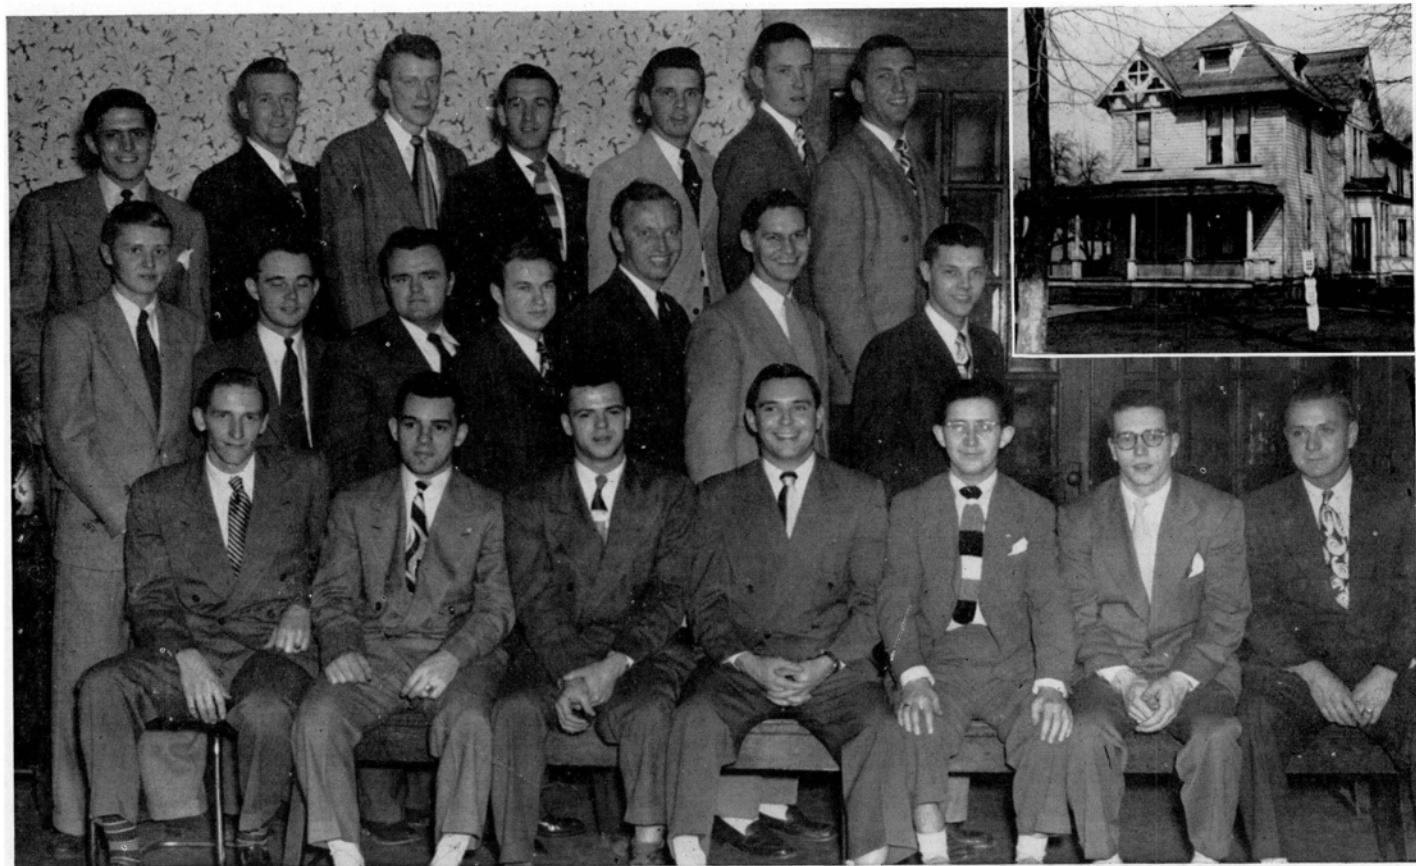

Through the years the efforts of the Inter-Fraternity Council have been instrumental in attaining a high spirit of cooperation among the fraternal organizations of Ohio Northern University.

DELTA SIGMA PHI

On May 12, 1914, fifteen Engineering Students of Ohio Northern University organized the Engineer's Triangle Club. The organization called the Clutter House at 219 East College Avenue their home until the fall of 1918 when they leased the Stuart House on 534 South Main Street. In January the Triangle Club was reorganized as the Delta Tau Phi local fraternity. Their idea in reorganizing was to form a stronger organization for the purpose of petitioning some strong national fraternity for a charter. In the fall of 1918 the President and several members of the faculty started to investigate, discuss, and petition several different national fraternities, as the members of the Triangle Club had a high scholarship rating and were of excellent character.

On St. Valentine's day, February 14, 1920, the twenty-nine men of Delta Tau Phi were initiated into Delta Sigma Phi. At the present time the fraternity has forty-seven active brothers and eight pledges. Dr. Hilliard and Professor Roeder are faculty members and Dean Webb is the chapter adviser.

THETA KAPPA PHI

Theta Kappa Phi, a national social fraternity for Catholic men who are enrolled as students in various colleges and universities, is represented on Ohio Northern's campus by Zeta chapter, which was chartered on April 9, 1925.

The purpose of Theta Kappa Phi is primarily to bring students into brotherly relationship; to promote the spirit of good fellowship; to encourage the attainment of high scholastic standing; and to offer to all members that training and environment which characterizes university and college men.

It is expected of every member, in accordance with the Theta Kappa Phi Fraternity spirit, to identify himself with the life and activities of the general student body, and always to manifest a public spirit and lively interest in all that concerns the life and welfare of the institution.

KAPPA PSI

The Kappa Psi Pharmaceutical Fraternity was organized at the School of Pharmacy, Virginia Medical College, Richmond, Virginia, in 1879. At present the national roll lists chapters at fifty-two of the nation's sixty-five pharmacy schools and thirty-six graduate chapters located in major cities of the country. It is the largest pharmaceutical fraternity and one of the largest professional fraternities in the world.

Gamma Delta Chapter of Kappa Psi was chartered and became active at Ohio Northern in 1920. The chapter home at 219 East College Avenue was obtained in 1927. Kappa Psi was one of the two local fraternities that remained active throughout the war.

The purposes of the fraternity are to encourage good scholarship, to promote mutual esteem and fellowship, and to advance the profession of pharmacy.

PHI MU DELTA

Phi Mu Delta had its beginning as the Commons Club at Wesleyan University, Middleton, Connecticut, in 1899. The national fraternity was organized in 1918, when local chapters at the Universities of Connecticut, Vermont, and New Hampshire decided to join with a common outlook.

Mu Beta chapter originated at Ohio Northern in the formation of a Masonic Club. This club was organized in 1922 with fourteen members. Later the desire arose to become affiliated with a national organization, and on April 10, 1926, the local club became Mu Beta chapter of Phi Mu Delta. The chapter has been active since that time except for a brief shutdown during World War II.

ALPHA SIGMA PHI

Alpha Sigma Phi was founded at Yale College on December 6, 1845. It is the tenth oldest Greek letter college fraternity in the nation, and it ranks fourteenth in the number of chapters.

On September 6, 1946, Alpha Sigma Phi and Alpha Kappa Pi merged into Alpha Sigma Phi, making this a bigger and better organization, both locally and nationally.

On January 17, 1948, we had a combined installation and initiation ceremony in which the Alpha Kappa Pi chapter at Ohio Northern University dissolved and became the Gamma Alpha chapter of Alpha Sigma Phi. At the present time we have thirty-six active members. Our temporary location is 603 South Main Street.

Alpha Sigma Phi is only in its growing stages at Ohio Northern University, but it will soon take a more active part in the activities on the campus.

SIGMA PHI EPSILON

Sigma Phi Epsilon was founded at the University of Richmond, Richmond, Virginia, in 1901. The only force that bound its members together at that time was the school opposition to Greek letter organizations. The rebellion by schools made fraternities spread to national importance. Thus in 1905 the Ohio Alpha Chapter of Sigma Phi Epsilon was established on Ohio Northern's campus.

Our home at the time was the building now known as the "Terrace." In 1915, we moved to our new home. The house was the first in Ohio to be built for fraternity use.

Sigma Phi Epsilon is now the second oldest fraternity on the campus and has more active members than ever before. The initiation of twenty-three during the year 1947-1948 makes our future as secure as our past.

SIGMA PI

Zeta Chapter rang in the 1947-48 season with the purchase of a new house on South Simon Street. The following officers were elected to carry the fraternity through the year: P. J. Brewer-Sage; Stan Kwiecinski-First Counselor; Jim Diefenderfer-Second Counselor; Robert Vogel-Third Counselor; Edward Lumm-Fourth Counselor; and Harry Gerstenberger-Herald. Professor John A. Weishampel acted as faculty adviser throughout the year.

The fraternity's standing in the intramural athletic conference was average, since it won the swimming trophy and took secondary honors in basketball and football.

The big event on the fraternity calendar was the annual spring orchid formal held May first at Beatley's Hotel, Russells' Point. Many alumni and friends of the fraternity attended the dance, making it a gala occasion.

ALPHA EPSILON PI

As the school year of 1948 ended, Kappa looked in retrospect upon the completion of its first twenty-five years of Alpha Epsilon Pi affiliations on the Ohio Northern University campus.

Kappa officially came into being on June 30, 1923, at which time it was formally installed as the tenth chapter of Alpha Epsilon Pi, at the Cleveland Hotel.

During its twenty-five years of Alpha Epsilon Pi, Kappa has inducted over three hundred men into brotherhood, many of whom have risen to important positions in national organizations. Many treasured customs and traditions have been handed down to us by those who have made our chapter what it is today. We are proud of our heritage and look forward with an inspired incentive to carry Kappa to new and greater heights at Ohio Northern University.

SIGMA DELTA KAPPA

Omicron chapter of Sigma Delta Kappa is this year marking its twenty-fifth year at Ohio Northern. The year has seen the attainment of many of the goals set by those who re-organized the chapter after its inactive war years. An increased and ambitious membership working with an interested alumni has made possible the procurement and furnishing of larger quarters, substantial additions to the library, and many other achievements.

Although the purposes and principles of the fraternity, like most professional fraternities, are chiefly for the furtherance of scholastic attainment, the chapter has nevertheless found time to engage in a number of social activities.

Omicron chapter looks back upon its Silver Anniversary year with pride and a feeling of accomplishment. It looks forward with confidence to the years ahead.

DELTA THETA PHI

This year Delta Theta Phi is looking forward to observance of its golden year. The present organization is a consolidation of three legal fraternities. The first, Delta Phi Delta, was organized at Cleveland Law School, Baldwin University, and it included nine colleges of law within thirteen years. Alpha Kappa Phi was organized at Northwestern University in 1902 and had eight chapters in colleges and universities at the end of eleven years. Theta Lambda Phi was organized in 1903 at Dickinson, in Carlisle. There were eighteen on its chapter roll when it merged with Delta Phi Delta and Alpha Kappa Phi.

Marshall Senate of Delta Theta Phi was organized on the fourth day of June, 1910. The senate has been dedicated to a program of cooperation with the aims of the Warren G. Harding College of Law, achieved through student meetings, social events with members of the bench and bar, and scholarship awards.

This past year Delta Theta Phi embarked upon a program of rebuilding the national organization following the war. The roster of active student senates now stands at over sixty, and Delta Theta Phi is represented in most of the leading law schools of the nation.

PANHELLENIC COUNCIL

Women's Pan-Hellenic Council is an organization set up for the coordination of the fraternities for women on the campus of Ohio Northern University and for the betterment of relationships between the sororities as a group and the faculty. Representation on the council consists of two members from each sorority, with offices set up on a rotating basis. Having cooperation as the major aim of the organization, the council coordinated the difficult problems arising from rushing and pledging. Definite rules and systematic procedures were devised to solve the pledging difficulties.

Projects sponsored during the past year were the drive for the World Student Service Fund and the campus carnival. The council also presented the trophies to the sorority having the most outstanding decoration and to the sorority group having the highest scholastic average for the year. A long-standing feature of the spring quarter was the traditional tri-sorority formal.

The Pan-Hellenic Council has gained prestige and has grown to be a recognized force in the campus life and student affairs.

PHI CHI

The Alpha Chapter of the Phi Chi Sorority was founded in 1909. At that time yellow and green were chosen as the sorority colors and the goldenrod as the flower. In 1924 all sororities were banned from the campus, and it was not until 1933 that they were reorganized. At the time of reorganization the yellow rose was selected as the sorority flower.

Among the activities of the sorority this past year have been the rush parties for prospective pledges, a number of house dances, participation in the Tri-Sorority Formal Dance, and the annual Phi Chi Winter Formal. The most important function was the annual Mother-Daughter Banquet held on May 2, 1948. Members and their mothers attended the services at the Presbyterian Church and dined at Tallman's Tea Room. An entertaining program concluded the day's events.

TAU KAPPA KAPPA

Forty-eight years ago eight girls from the Ada High School formed a club called the "G's."

Later, when this circle had matriculated at Ohio Northern University, the members wished to continue their organization under a more collegiate form. At that time there were no fraternities for women on the campus. These girls became the pioneers in that movement. In 1900 they changed their name to Tau Kappa Kappa.

The year of 1948 found the TK's with the largest group of pledges on the campus. A highlight of the year was the rush party in which the sorority house was transformed into "Hotel TKK."

The girls of Tau Kappa Kappa have made rapid progress during the year in membership, scholarship, and social events.

THETA PHI DELTA

Alpha of Theta Phi Delta was introduced to Ohio Northern's campus November 19, 1909, by nine now-revered founders. For fifteen years the Thetas maintained a happy, active existence at Northern. Then in 1924, all sororities were compelled to disband by the administration, since they could not become affiliated nationally.

In 1933 the University relented and sororities were once more sanctioned. The Thetas were the first to return to the campus, and a gala three-day reception, with the president of the university serving at the head of the receiving line, was held in honor of the occasion.

Today, with three patronesses, twenty-five honoraries, and over four hundred alumnae scattered throughout the continent, Theta Phi Delta is still maintaining scholastic and social standards established almost forty years ago.

EVENTS

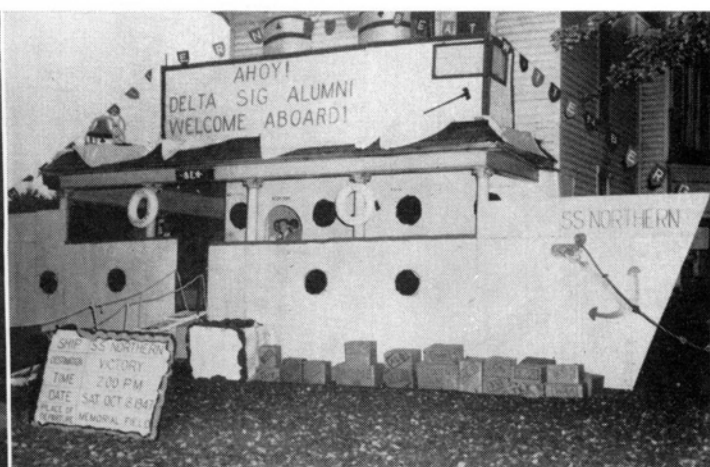

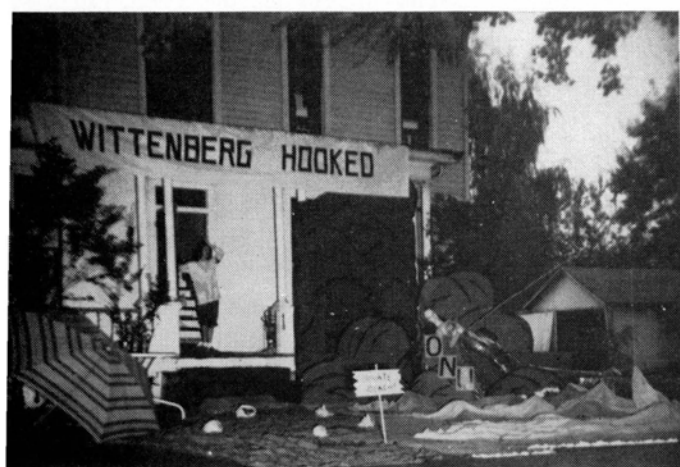

HOMECOMING

On October 18 a crowd of some one thousand alumni made the annual pilgrimage to the home of O.N.U. with high hopes of celebrating to the best of their individual capacities, the grand old institution of Homecoming. By noon of that very special day the spirits of the alumni, the persons of the queens, and the decorations of the individual fraternity houses had become dampened almost beyond repair. The rain not only caused the Pushmobile course to be more hazardous than usual, but also turned Memorial Field into a veritable sea of mud.

The Pushmobile Classic, Northern's counterpart to the Kentucky Derby, was won by the Sigma Phi Epsilon Fraternity in a pushmobile which had until this year, failed to come home. The House Decoration Trophies were won by Delta Sigma Phi for the fraternities and Theta Phi Delta for the sororities.

The afternoon's festivities at Memorial Field began with the crowning of the Independents' choice, Miss Becky Buess, as Homecoming Queen. She was attended by Jeanne Baker, Sally Jo Varner, and Carolyn Winegardner. Immediately after the ceremony, students and alumni saw the Polar Bears (for the remainder of the season known as the Mudders) defeat a favored Wittenberg eleven by a score of 7 to 0.

The climax of each year's Homecoming, the traditional Homecoming dance, was well attended.

MAY DAY

May Day officially began on April 30 this year. As the first day of May fell on Saturday, the university gave the students their chance to clean the campus on Friday afternoon and "play" all day Saturday. For those students really interested in their university it was a wonderful holiday. Clean-up was successful, with the various organizations given definite assignments. The procedure was both rapid and efficient. The crowning point of the day was the recovery of a long-lost friend—our beloved (yet errant) bell clapper.

Secrecy of the O.S.S., F.B.I., and Christmas Eve was evident in the early hours of May the first. The reason for the quiet streets and lack of general activity was due to the assembling of floats in back of the fraternity and sorority houses. At one o'clock in the afternoon the area in the front of Taft Gym was the assembling point for the parade. Complete to the brass band, the caravan was greeted by large crowds lined along Main Street. After having finished displaying its floats and bedecked cars, the procession filed back to Wibbeler field, where the winning float, that of the Sigma Phi Epsilon, was awarded with a handsome trophy. Runners-up were the Theta Phi Delta and the Delta Sigma Phi.

The traditional flag-pole rush then held the spotlight. After a full ten minutes of flying fists and flailing arms, the upper-classmen came forth victorious—the freshmen emerged with greasy and torn trousers.

MAY DAY

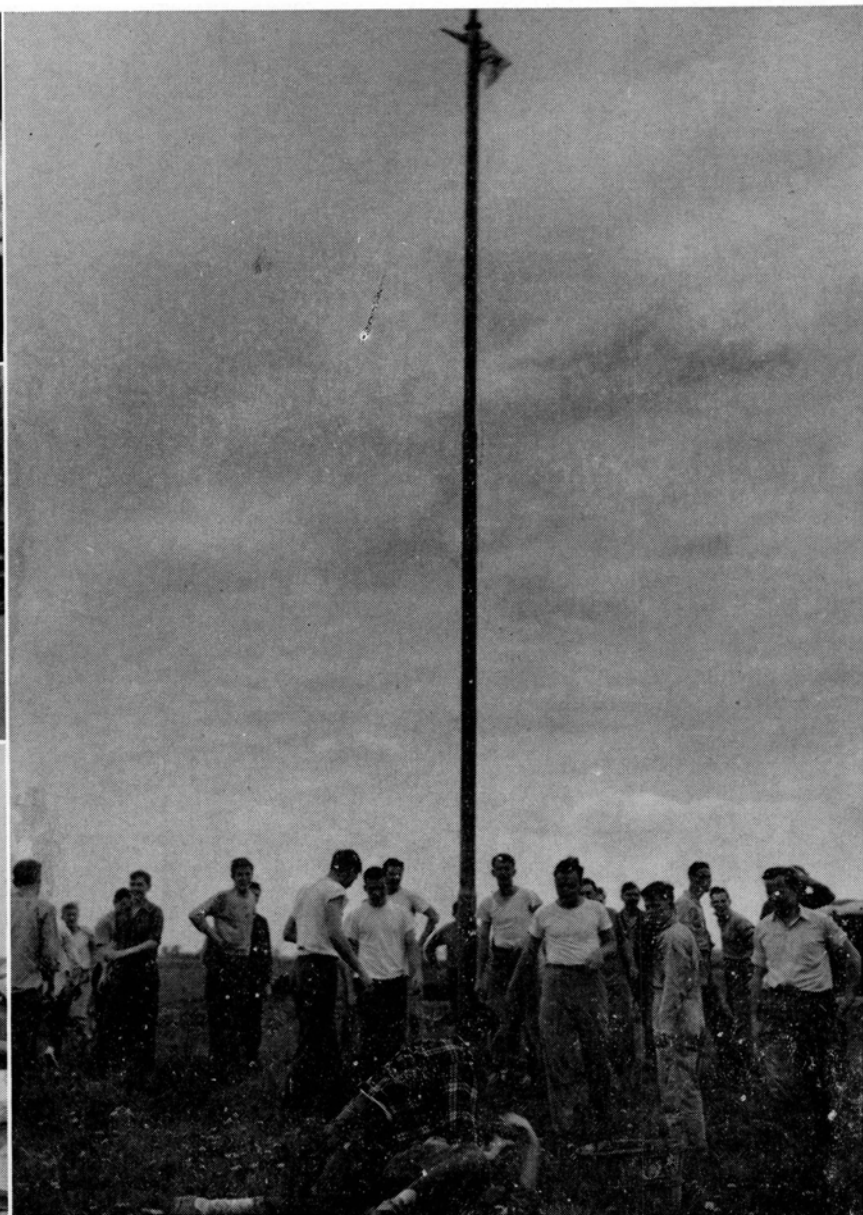

The game with State was a fine one. Although we weren't the winners, the spectators did not regard us as losers, for a hard game, clean to the last inning, was played.

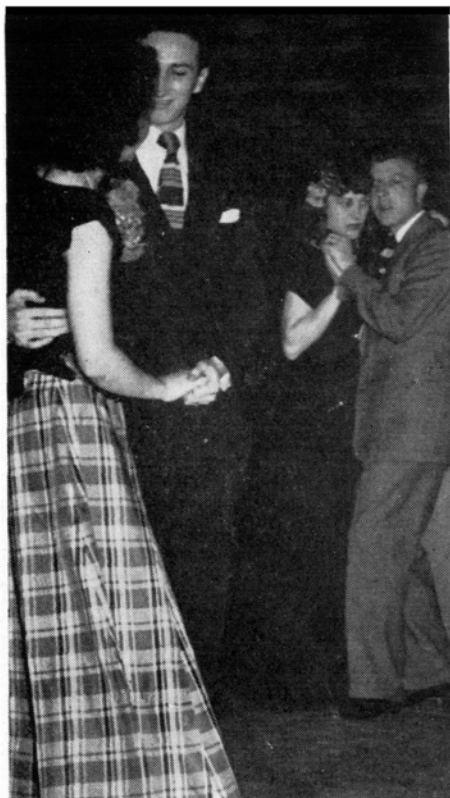

The May Dance was one of the best-attended of the year. The decorations, beautiful as they were, were evidence of the hard work done by the "N" men to show the campus a good time.

Highlighting the evening was the coronation of the May Queen by Prexy. She was Jean Ann Morrison. Her two attendants were Virginia Baker and Pat Edinger.

As the last waltz was played, the seniors had enjoyed an evening long to be remembered, and the lower-classmen looked forward to May Day of '49.

FRATERNITY DANCES AND PARTIES

Each subsequent social season finds the Greeks its unchallenged leaders. This year the fraternities and sororities at ONU not only ran the recognized gamut of social affairs but also initiated several innovations which undoubtedly will become tradition in the years to follow. Excluding the respective spring and winter formals of the various Greek letter organizations, we have chosen what we consider to be the highlights of the informal social season here at Ohio Northern.

Sigma Phi Epsilon culminated a rather boisterous spring Hell Week with an authentically costumed Dogpatch dance, with decorations for the evening in the mountainous vein. During intermission the newly-initiated brothers staged various skits for the entertainment of the guests. The evening was appropriately climaxed by the forceful presentation of the paddle to Pledgemaster Ralph Pollock by ex-pledge president Donald Bloker.

The theme of Washington's birthday carried out by Phi Mu Delta in staging a dinner dance was used on February twenty-first. Decorations consisted of large red, white, and blue Liberty Bells, hatchets and a cameo-like portrait of the Father of Our Country. Intermission activities included a serenade to a large replica of the Phi Mu pin.

CAMPUS CARNIVAL

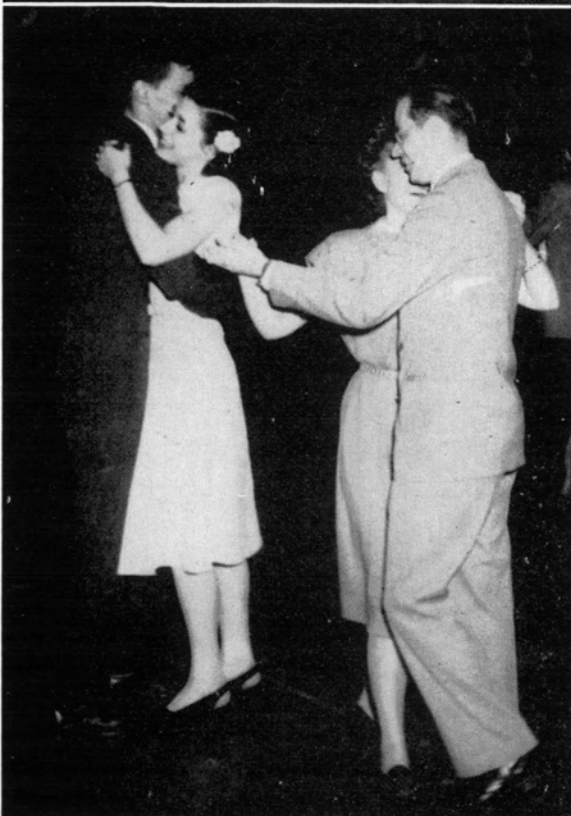

The pealing bell called its students, but the little airplane remained perched near Brown Building, beckoning all to the "Campus Carnival."

This bizarrely announced a novel kind of campus affair. Envisioned by the S.C.A., but representing various campus groups, the plans took shape as show people began transforming Brown Library into its festive dress.

The troupers cleared the temporary classroom of seats, desks, and scattered book stacks. Utilizing ample crepe paper, lumber and props, mental and physical effort created under-the-balcony concessions ranging from a golf green to an elusive live duck in a tub.

With preparations in order the evening progressed. Patrons tried their sporting prowess, danced, or sat watching at balcony tables. A timely vaudeville show revealed a pleasing type of campus showmanship. At its conclusion, the carnival trophy was presented to the TKK's for their colorful shoe shining parlor. At evening's end, hopes were being expressed that "The Carnival" might become a traditional annual affair.

SPRING SWING

Amidst a background of crepe paper spring flowers and under a vari-colored ceiling of gay streamers, the members of the AMVETS and the Independent Women presented their dance, the Spring Swing, to the Northern students. The theme of the dance was accented by trellises and gay garden fences placed at various corners of the gymnasium and intertwined with pastel spring flowers, made by the girls.

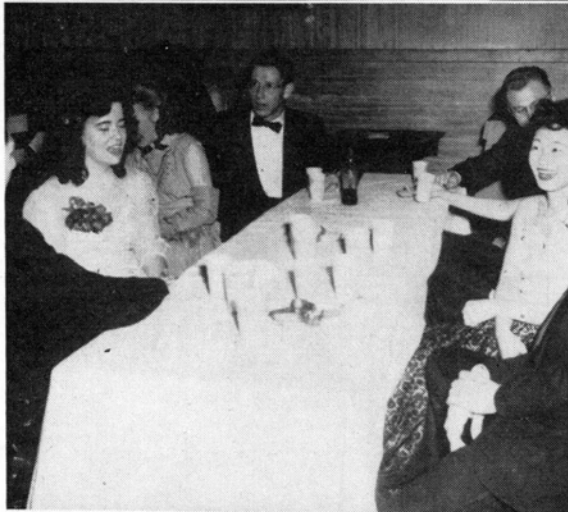

Stan Main's band provided excellent and appropriate music for the gathering. From the first number to the last "Good Night Sweetheart" the dancers filled the floor.

Chaperones for the occasion were Dr. and Mrs. Robert Hilliard and Professor and Mrs. Karl Roider.

TRI SORORITY FORMAL

While the pictures shown herewith are those of the Tri-Sorority Ball, social activities among the three sororities on the campus include many other functions. House dances, hay rides, rush parties, and teas, as well as co-operation in all-campus events, make for the well-integrated social life enjoyed by the average campus co-ed. Needless to say, a wholesome spirit of competition exists among our three local sororities, Theta Phi Delta, Phi Chi, and Tau Kappa Kappa.

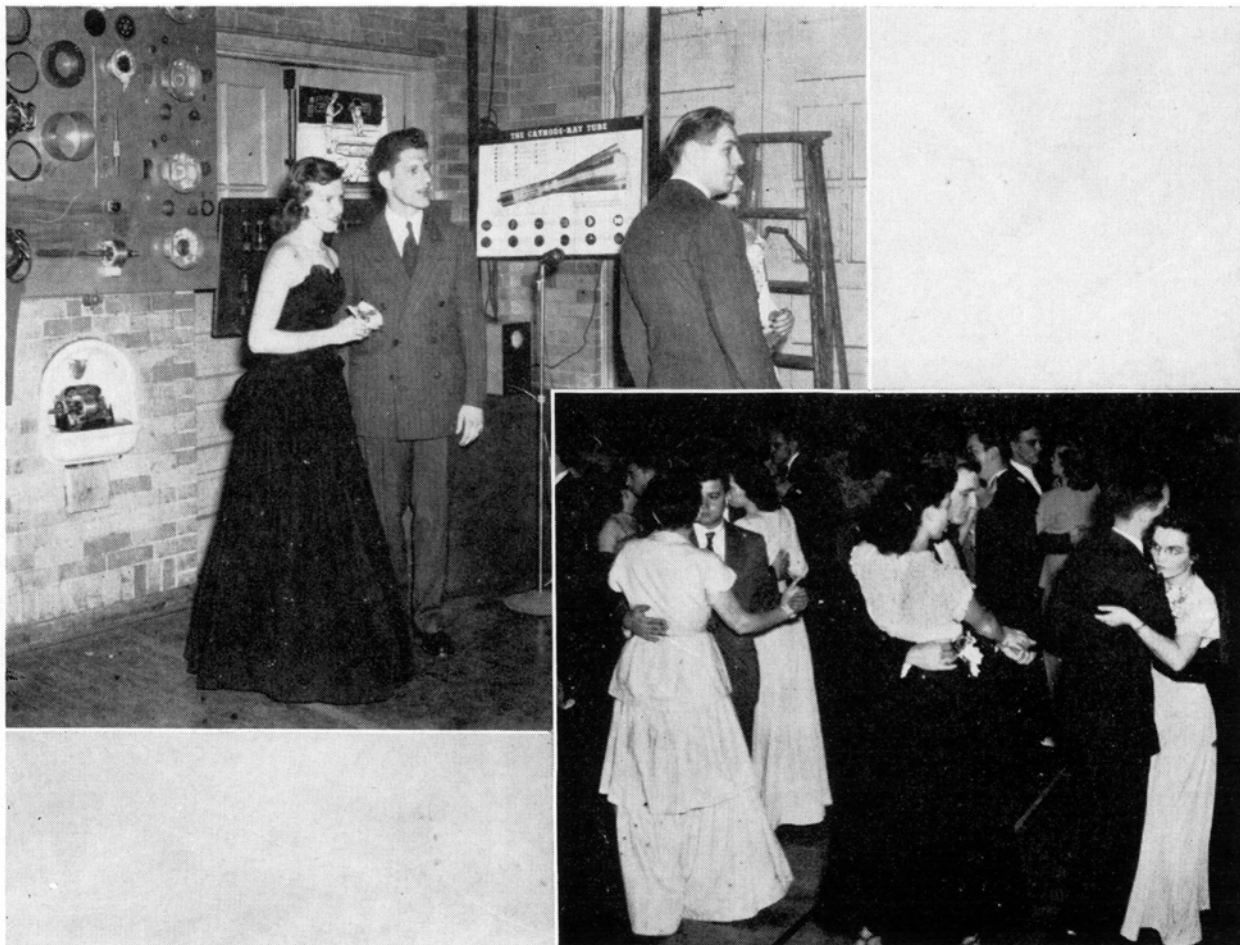

TRI SORORITY FORMAL

Traditionally, one night of the year the girls put away all differences and co-operate to stage the annual Tri-Sorority Ball. This year the Pan-Hellenic-sponsored dance was held at Springbrook Gardens, a recently decorated country club just outside of Lima. The rustic atmosphere achieved by low beams and pine-paneled walls required a minimum of decorating. The dance floor was enclosed on three sides by small tables, lending an atmosphere of café society, even to the extent of ringside seats for the unscheduled floor shows provided by the patrons.

The punch bowl, established criterion of all good dances, was the meeting-place for couples who combined liquid refreshment and stimulating conversation with an evening of dancing. Appropriate music for the occasion was furnished by a Lima band. Chaperones for the evening were Dr. and Mrs. A. C. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Accountius, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Noble.

Sorority members, guests, and escorts agreed wholeheartedly that the 1948 Tri-Sorority Ball has re-established the status of the pre-war dances as one of the top social functions on the O.N.U. calendar.

ENGINEERS BALL

Bringing to a close the annual Engineers' Week, the Engineering College climaxed its activities on April 3 with the Engineers' Ball. Decked in their best attire, nearly one hundred fifty couples attended the gala function held in Taft Gym.

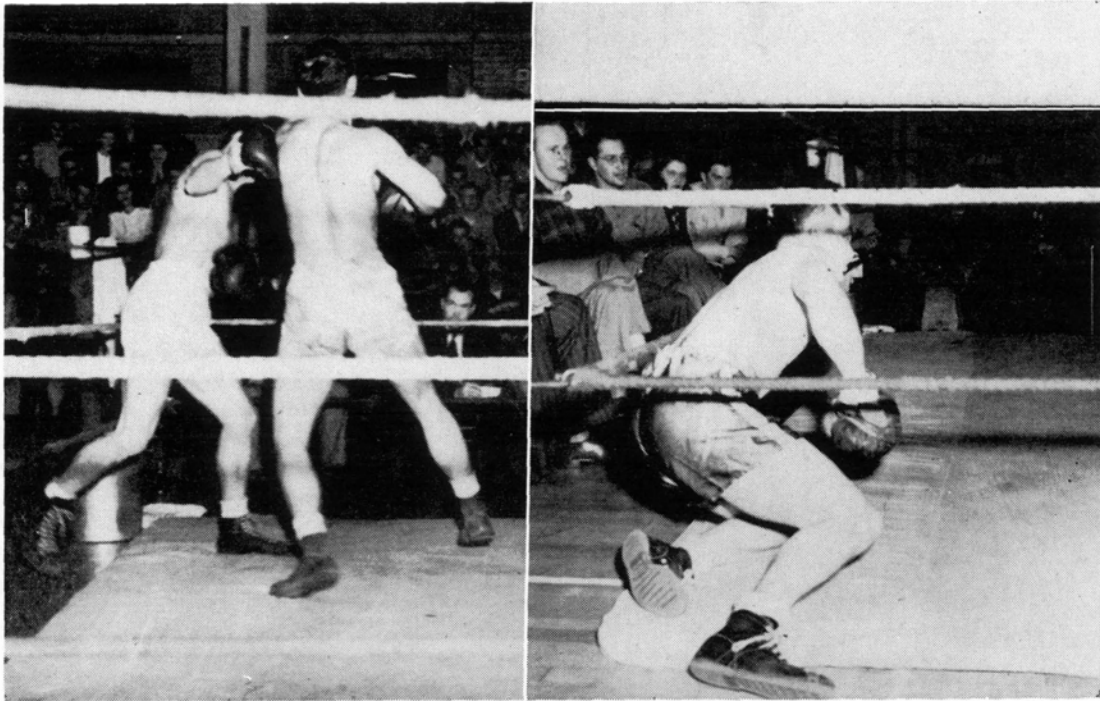

The gymnasium was attractively decorated with red and black streamers, and a display by each engineering department contributed an unusual note. The mechanical engineers constructed a genuine fountain with running water, while the electrical department set up a series of rotating colored spotlights and equipment for observing voice waves.

A number of model bridges made up the civil engineering exhibitions. Included with the displays were caricatures of the professors of the college in some familiar pose.

This affair is the bright spot in the year for many who are in engineering and are not included in many of the other campus activities.

All those present, including the professors of the college, entered into the spirit of the occasion and had a wonderful time. Then, as the evening drew to a close, the engineers headed back to their slide rules and log tables.

BRAWNY BRUINS

On February 12 a capacity crowd gathered at Taft Square Garden to witness the re-establishment of Ohio Northern's traditional "Fight Nite." The spectators voiced their approval in the accepted manner and seemed quite satisfied. With respect to a "fight" crowd, this is an accomplishment in itself.

The aspiring pugilists pounded and pummeled their respective opponents to the tune of one knockout and seven decisions. Phi Mu Hank Miller was presented the Best Boxer trophy for his outstanding ability with fourteen ounce gloves. Roger Wright, dispenser of the only knockout punch, was awarded the Best Sportsman of the Evening trophy.

A recap of the eight fights looks something like this:

Raymond Hewitt	over	Jerry Rymer
Carl Seewer	draw	Donald Alspach
Harry Frederick	over	Harry Shepard
Roger Wright	KO	Robert Harriff

CAMPUS LIFE

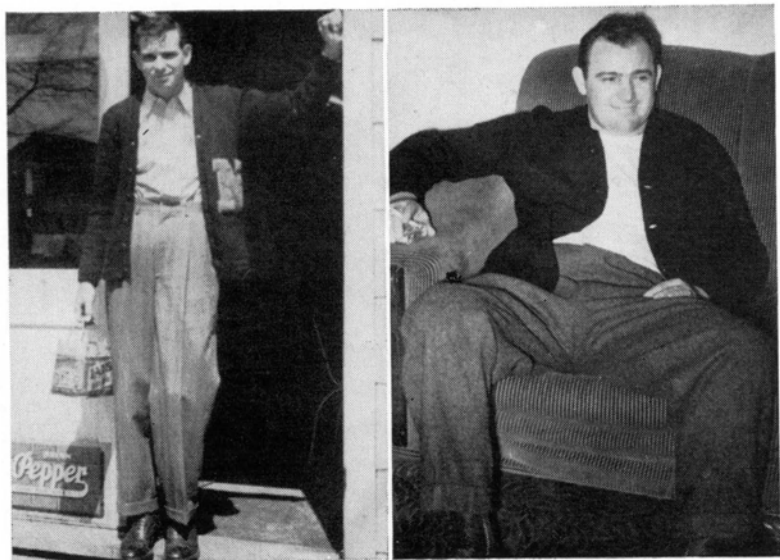

Bill Hayden, Sam Moore, Chuck Grossman

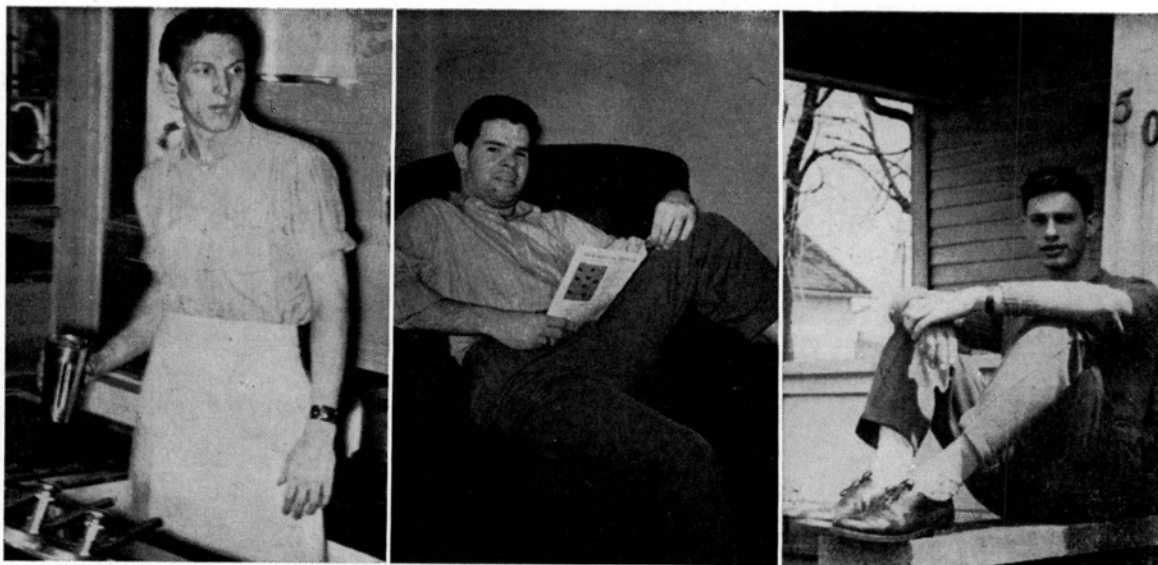

Instrumental in keeping alive college spirit on the O. N. U. campus are the "Big Men on the Campus" shown above. These men have not been chosen on the basis of any single achievement or talent, but for their general popularity among their fellow students and for their participation in campus offices.

Bill Hayden, Phi Mu Delta, is known for his participation in athletics and "N" men, as is Bill Whitely, who is also president of Alpha Sigma Phi. Bill Derry, Sigma Phi Epsilon is active in choir, varsity athletics. Chuck Grossman, president of the Phi Mu Delta, is a member of the Interfraternity Council, Northern Review and the Northern staff.

Bill Whiteley
Homer Pellegrenon

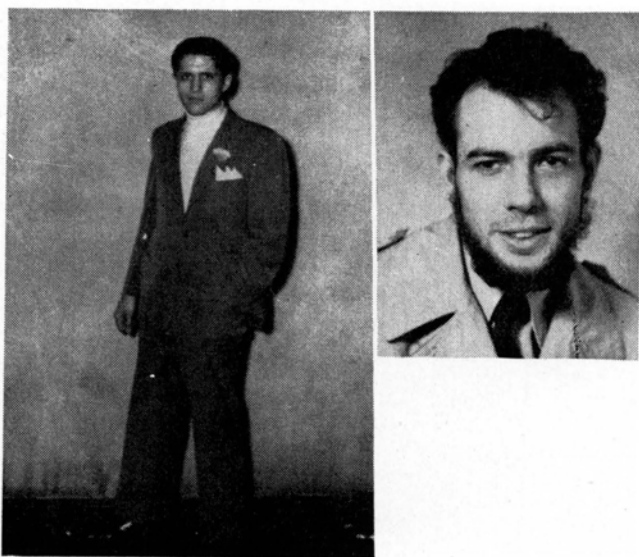

John Stager, Bill Derry, Irv Gordon

Irv Gordon is president of Alpha Epsilon Pi, and a member of the Interfraternity Council. Sam Moore, Kappa Psi, is a member of the Chemistry Club and is active in Interfraternity sports. Joe Baker, Independent, is familiar for his outstanding performances with the Northern Players. Fred Masnaghetti is Assistant Editor of the Annual and Social Chairman of the Delta Sigma Phi Fraternity. John Stager, treasurer of Sigma Pi Fraternity, is a member of the choir. Homer Pellegron, vice-president of Theta Kappa Phi, is intramural sports manager also.

There are many others not named here, but these men represent a cross section of those male students who are really the B.M.O.C.

Autumn. Fall quarter. Return to the campus. Many new faces and greetings to old friends. Cool evenings punctuated by the tantalizing perfume of burning leaves. Hayrides and wiener roasts. Serenades breaking the stillness of autumn mid-nights. Indian summer and the golden days glide stealthily away.

December heralding in the winter quarter. The days grow shorter and a sleepy gray sky looms, then fades into darkness. Snow falls. Rush parties. Dances. Two cups of hot chocolate. Footprints in the soft snow. Shadows elongated by the soft light of a kindly street lamp. Dreams formed before a fireplace. The serenades, but they sing carols now. The winter formal. The jangling of the front door-bell. Two gardenias, ghostly-white, nestling in a halo of shining green leaves.

Lazy days and easy living. Delicate buds burst and blossom to bask the campus in green. It's spring. Credit-hours cut down to a minimum. Violets and crocuses and dogwood. Weather for convertibles and a ride out to the country. The smell of moist earth, freshly overturned. Blue skies, all the more blue because of the fleecy vagabond clouds. Formals by the score. Souvenirs of the past year are packed away: the dance programs, a few favors, a paper napkin from that little inn. The luggage bulging with more clothes than it can hold. The last goodbyes. Promises to write. The small, smoke-stained train station. The parting kiss, perhaps a tear or so. The lonely feeling accentuated by the piercing whistle of the train as it fades into oblivion.

AROUND THE
WITH PREXY

THE SMALL WORLD

Ohio Northern had eight students attending school last year who had sailed across an ocean to further their education. These students were Mohamad Amir Boukai, Palestine; Sami Ali Mayyasi, Palestine; Emad P. Rahbany, Lebanon; Mehmet Bahaettin Bur, Turkey; Tsuyoko Hamakama, Hawaii; Donald Tau Kong Ho, Hawaii; Weston Hook, Hawaii; and Harold K. Wong, Hawaii. Five of the eight were in Engineering College, and the other three were enrolled in Liberal Arts courses.

Their presence on the campus was more than an honor to the school, for through these eight the rest of the students gained a closer perception of how the rest of the world lives—thinks. For the rest of the students, they helped make this “a smaller world.”

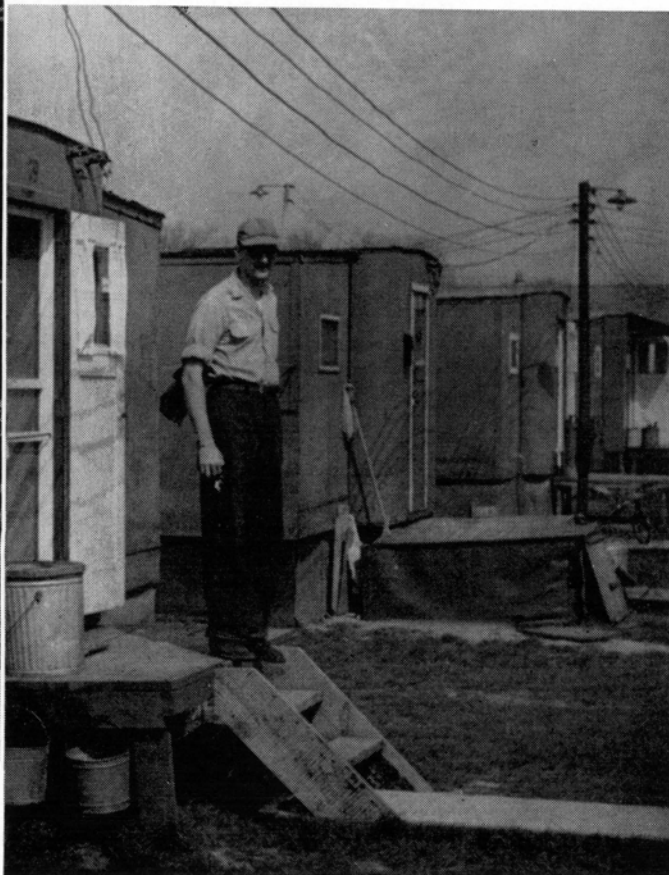

With the bettered view of peoples of other lands, the students from this country and the eight from other countries were taught tolerance. This came about not in class, but in the many small, informal, discussion groups that are always found on college campuses.

The eight students from overseas, the fraternities, sororities, and the independent groups of the campus represented many different ideals, religions, and nationalities. The past year these organizations worked and played together to make tolerance not just a word, but an actuality.

When such extra-curricular action is coupled with knowledge from the classroom, the results are students who can more ably see and understand the ever dwindling world.

TRAILER COLONIES

An integral part of O. N. U. campus life is the trailer colonies. Due to the continued housing shortage, the government trailers are filled to capacity. Distributed around the campus in three separate villages, these trailers house almost twelve per cent of the university's total population.

The married couples began moving into Presser Colony during the winter quarter of 1946, with the migration to the Lehr Village and Taft Colonies following within the next few months. In the past two years these trailers have been transformed from dull olive drab boxes into attractive homes by means of a little ingenuity and a lot of hard work.

Each trailer colony is governed by a mayor and council elected by the members of the village. It is their duty to handle all complaints and make the regulations for their colony. In addition to their administrative duties, they also plan social functions for the entire village to provide recreation for the trailer-ites.

EARL CARROLL SELECTS:

Each year, Earl Carroll acted as judge for beauty contests at colleges and universities throughout the country. Selecting the most beautiful girls on each campus for yearbooks or other special school functions, he was asked to act as judge for choosing our 1948 NORTHERN beauty queen.

As the world's foremost authority on beauty, Mr. Carroll found it was very difficult to make a decision as to the annual queen. However, after careful consideration of the beauty candidates, Mr. Carroll was pleased and honored to choose Miss Loretta Darnell.

In Appreciation

The 1948 NORTHERN, as any other publication, found itself facing a great many problems before it could be delivered to the student body. The preparation included such things as the creation of the theme, organization of the staff, layouts of the pages, photographs for the engravings, and write-ups. Finally, with these as only a few of the many tasks, the annual was sent to press, bound, and delivered to the students.

Cooperation was in constant need; without it the annual might not have been a reality. At this time I would like to express my appreciation to the editorial, photography, secretarial, and business staffs for their lengthy and sincere work in completing this job. Along with the students participating in the annual's tasks I would also like to thank the Indianapolis Engraving Company, the Berne Witness Printing Company, Durand Covers, and Kansas School Photo Service for their most necessary services,

George M. McDonald

Keys to Achievement

Keys not carried in the pocket or the purse. But in the mind.

Keys that open not just ordinary doors . . . but vast areas of achievement in the sciences, the arts, the humanities.

It is one of the purposes of education not only to fit the student with a basic ring of keys to knowledge . . . but also to teach him how to make his own keys for all the doors to achievement he will want to open throughout his life.

How many keys to achievement are needed? Enough to keep one busy for a lifetime, fashioning them out of knowledge, reason and experience. For no matter how many doors you unlock, there is always another door to even greater achievement still to be opened.

concentration

In the eyes of the archery expert, the target is no larger than the bull's-eye. On that spot he concentrates, and concentration means championship. Retail drug champions are those who concentrate on high-class-quality lines. This is particularly true of the prescription department, where investment is large and turnover rather small. Progressive druggists feature Lilly pharmaceutical and biological products because Lilly products satisfy their physicians and yield a maximum return on a minimum investment. We are a distributor for Eli Lilly and Company and maintain stocks of its products entirely adequate to every demand.

Our service is quick and economical.
